STUDENT LIFE

ACADEMICS, yet TIME for FUN = MIDDLE SCHOOL

Not even the cold will keep these 6th graders from missing their recess time.

Hamming it up, 8th grade girls try to get their faces in the yearbook.

To show their CUB SPIRIT, the 6th graders yell their loudest at a U-High game.

Preparing the students for high school, middle school academics require much time and effort, whether it be for bug-collecting, decimals and fractions, American History, Call of the Wild, Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, or a foreign language. However, middle school students always make time for FUN!

Beating the hustle and bustle of changing classes, middle school students master the routine.

The three musketeers can always be found together.

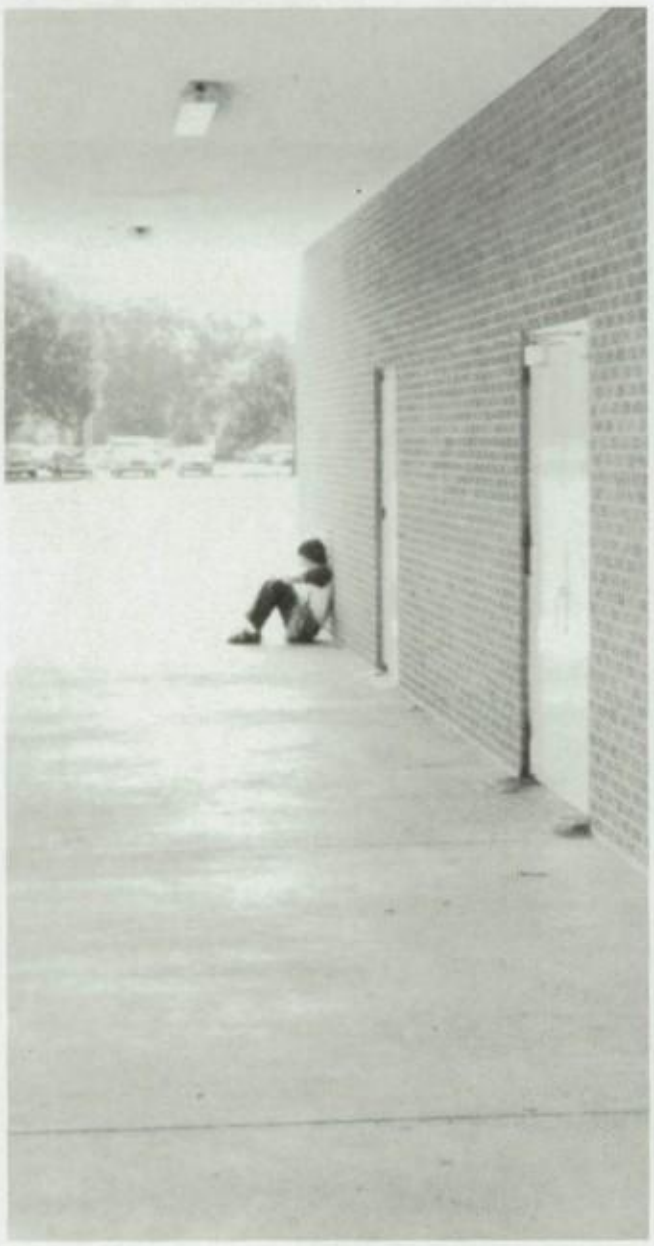
Basketball has become a favorite pastime at lunch for everyone.

With the goal of winning a Spirit Bag, middle school fans cheer endlessly throughout the Pep Rally.

SPECIAL TIMES . . .

Only High School can inspire . . .

Lunch time blues catch up with Mason as he sits outside the Choir room, contemplating life.

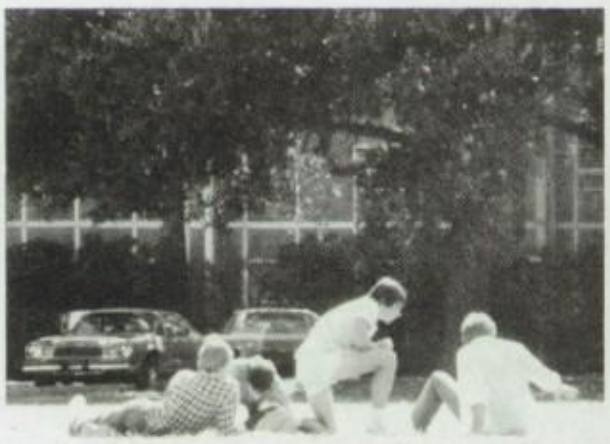


Only the atmosphere of high school could possibly provide a setting for these events: the time when you spilled your tray in the lunch room after tripping over your own shoelaces—playing the role of a cool jock in a rock video—having successfully slipped quietly out of the house to go to Saturday clinic and come back home, only to have your little brother tell—after continuously hinting, finally having the courage to ask that special person to the dance—cramming for a test, only to find the questions were not in the Cliff notes—proudly finishing your work on time, then being told it was due the day before.

The students at U-High show their special school spirit as a favor for the seniors in their special spot on PM MAGAZINE.

Since Paul Roberts looks so interested and amused, one stops to wonder just what he's filming.

Who says Mud Pies are for children? Monique, Merle and Susie!!!!



Childhood is revisited by Brad, Scott, Todd, and Jim with a lunch time game of Duck, Duck, Goose.

Lights . . . Camera . . . Action! All can be found in the chemistry class with nationally renowned teacher Mrs. Ater.

Plenty of helpful assistance given to Patrick by Lisa and Angela in the naming of his plants.

An affectionate Duane Jones turns Shari's head at lunch.

Another hair-raising day for Darren, as Andrea, Mason, Kristin, and Ellen stand by idly.

Sophomores know how to corroborate their efforts for a successful lunch hour meeting.

High school is full of times that will be remembered for the rest of one's life. However, much has to be waded through-daily homework, club fund raisers, all-night cramming sessions, and music practices—to provide special moments, such as finally finishing the project, being asked to the dance, "ace-ing" the test, and performing beautifully in concerts. Fortunately, the everyday chain of events—so banal, never-ending and OH! so unforgettable—will eventually fade, while these very special moments will remain always.

Another meeting announced by Class President McKernan to select the "special" seniors. The most common question: What are Senior Specials? At UHS, seniors honor twelve classmates who have consistently been outstanding in academics, leadership, service, cooperation, athletics . . . but most of all, in contributions to their senior class and to the school in almost every aspect of student life. The ballots are counted . . . honoring these special seniors of 1984. (A special thanks to Chuck E. Cheese management for the use of the restaurant for pictures.)

Clockwise from top: Gordon McKernan, Eric Schroeder, Lawson Wilder, Lance Bullock, Blance Bankston, Bradley Aucoin, Hale Arnas, Angie Bivin, Alice Stuckey, Sophie Tasker, Stacey Gaston, Shariba Hawkins.

Gordon McKernan—Senior Class President

Through months of Mondays the Student

Student Council—a group composed of high school class and club presidents and class representatives who all share a common goal of fostering school unity and spirit. Under the leadership of Eric Schroeder, this year's Student Council worked as a whole organizing school activities to encourage student participation and to implement new and innovative ideas. The Student Council sponsored Homecoming and Winter Formal, both great successes. In addition, a very successful Christmas Dance was sponsored—a first for U-High. Also at Christmas time, the students got to take their pictures with Santa Claus (better known as Blance Bankston and Mr. Roberts).

This year the organization resurrected Student Council Week, a time in mid-April when Student Council activities are highlighted. Mr. Irresistible, Miss Irresistible, computer dating, and other class-competitions were among the activities. The 1983-84 Student Council, one of U-High's most productive and successful, has indeed fostered school unity and spirit.

Peeking out from behind Derek (the photographer), the elementary students are eager to have their pictures taken with Santa Claus.

Shouldering the responsibilities of school leadership, Hale, Collette, Stacey, and Shari don't mind sacrificing second hour.

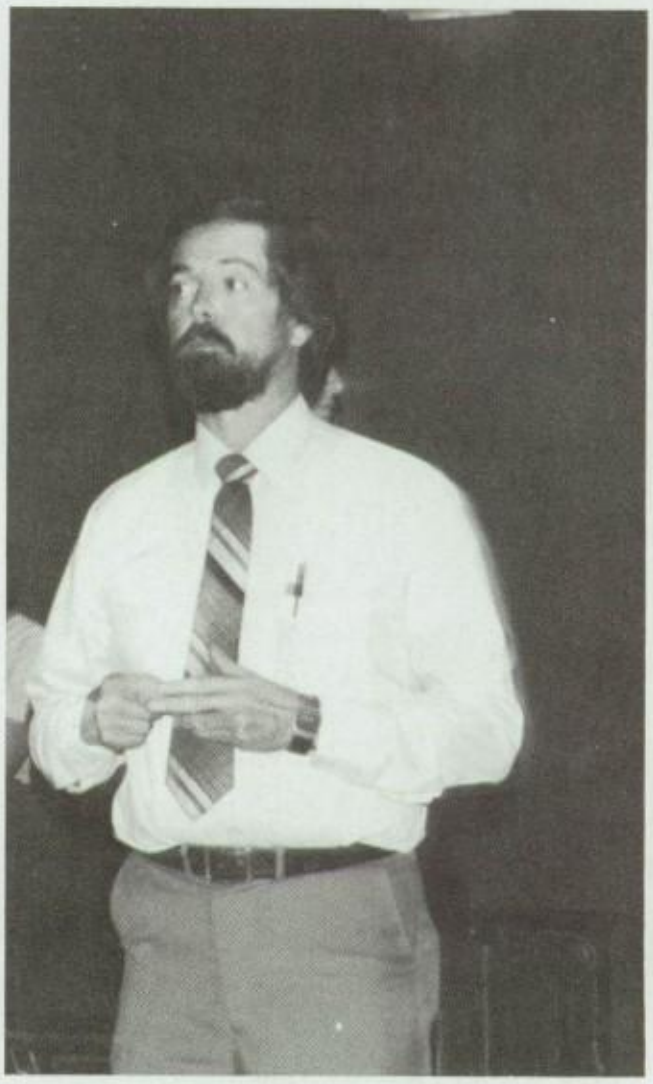
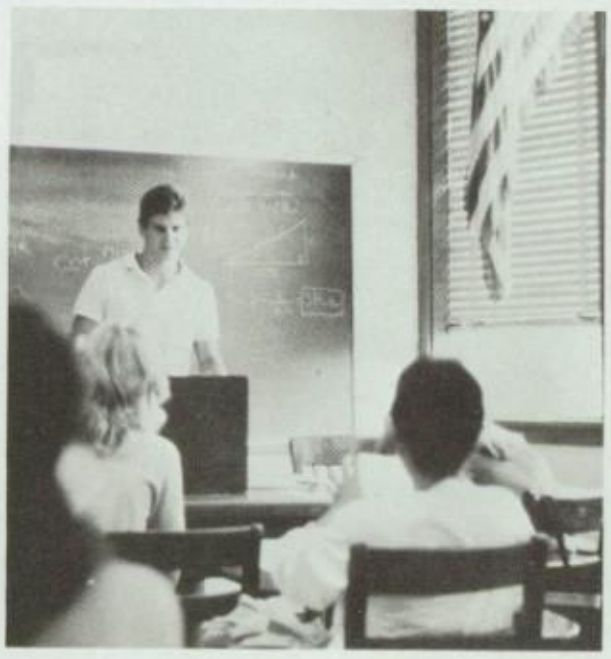
Council provided Great Unity and Spirit.

Choosing between Dr. Pepper and Coke after school is a new privilege provided by the Student Council to Trey, Laura, Julie, and other students.

The watchful eye of Dr. Hope presides over Student Council functions as the advisor.





Eric goes to the head of the class and takes control of the Monday meetings.

The KEY

to Success:

Key Club

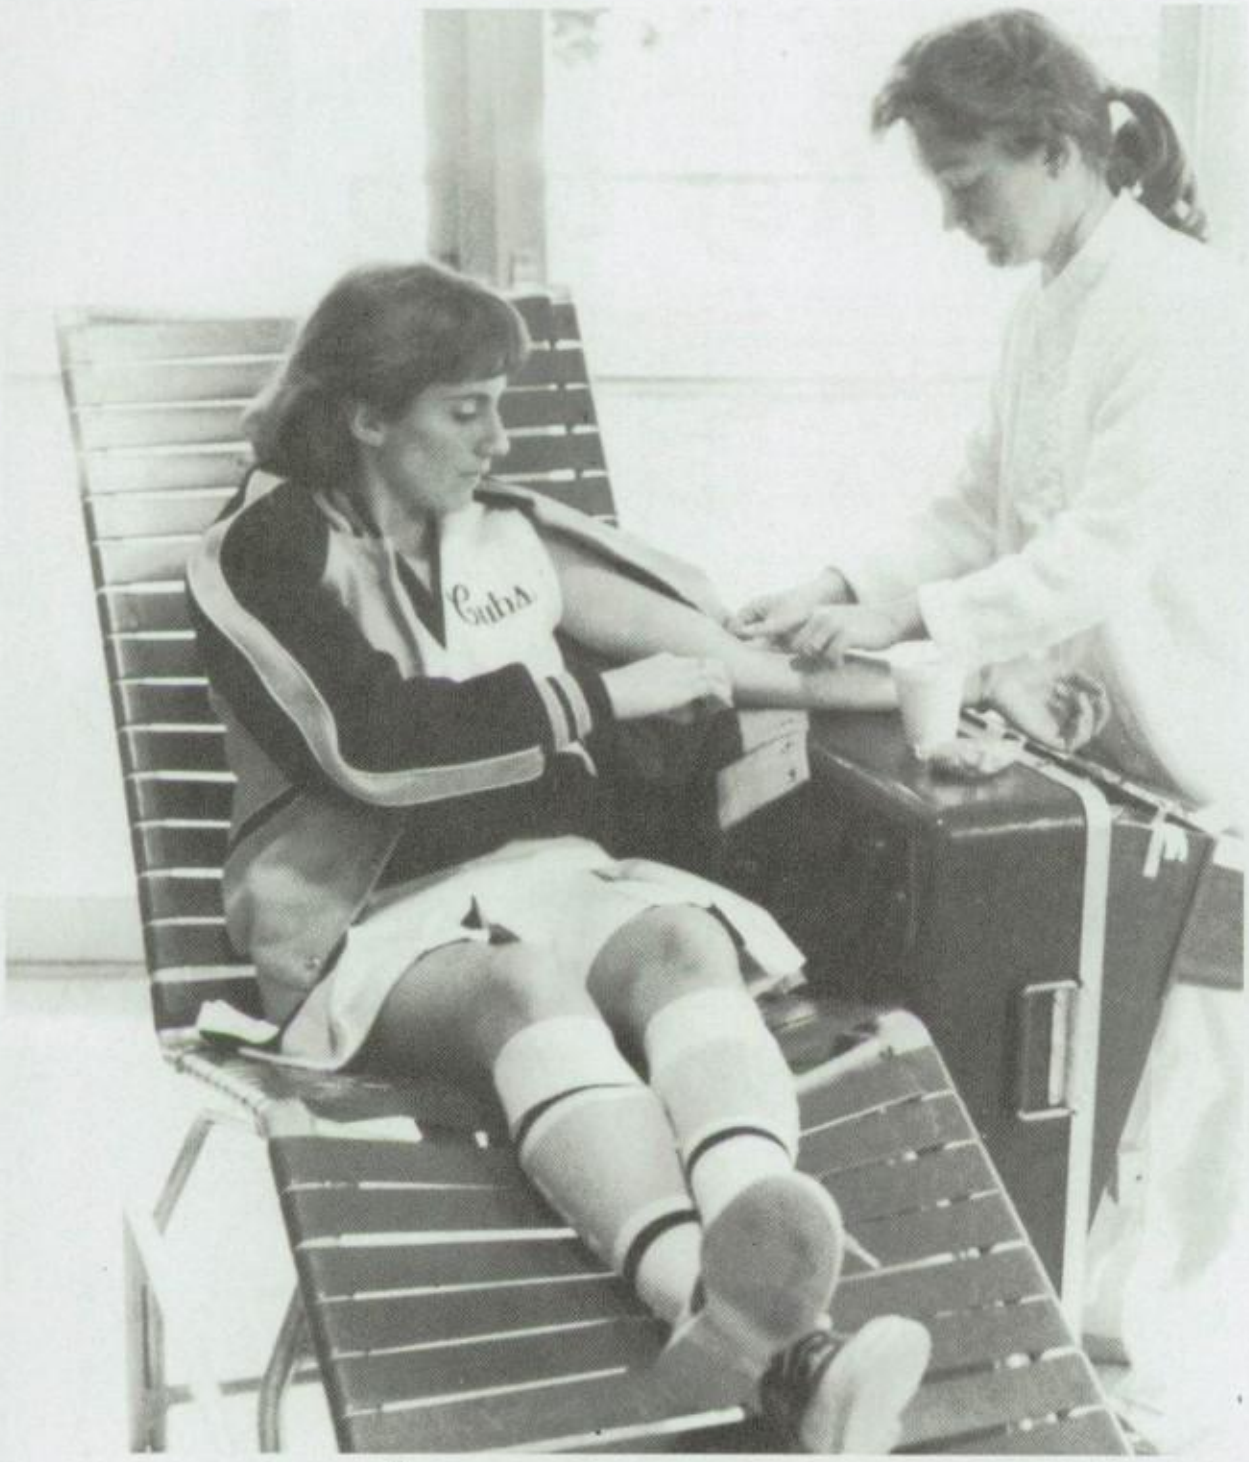
The Key Club, involved in many productive activities during the year, sponsored one of the school's most successful service activities: the blood drive. Members also provided the bull-ride and the car smash, enabling students to vent "frustrations" on Sadie Hawkins' Day. At Christmas time the club not only delivered food to the needy, but they also helped the Kiwaniians sell Christmas trees. Additionally, they sold much needed school directories to raise club funds. In conjunction with the parent club, several Key Club members attended Kiwanis luncheons throughout the year. This club remained busy year-round in many spirit and service activities.

Studying the remains of the car smash, George, Buddy, and other Key Club members find it hard to decide who is the favorite teacher at Sadie Hawkins.

First row: Inga Laughlin, Wendy Prudhomme, Elka Laughlin. Second row: Mr. Tucker, Joe McGinnis, Gary Poirrier, Will Timmons, Mike Roberts, Buddy Cox, Lance Bullock, Lawson Wilder, Jonathan Sandoz, Trey Beall, Tim McClure. Third row: Mark Hollingsworth, David Snyder, Chris Cathey, Kennon Guglielmo, Jim Franke, Bob Barton, Danny Warren, Wick Robertson. Fourth row: Larry de la Bretonne, Eric Raby, Jack Shaab, Danny Lewis, Eric Schroeder, Jon Odenwald, Patrick Turner, Brian Hartley. Fifth row: Jon Fox, Kevin Roark, Ty Hartwig, Brunson Taylor, Tee Brown, Kurt O'Brien, Patrick Henry, Todd Johnson, Bradley Aucoin, Michael Kantrow, Chuckie Baszile, David Shelby. Sixth row: Holmes Cooper, John Walsh, Conner Eglin, Randy Vick, Scott Haile, Bill Griffin, David Kantrow, Michael Babin, Mike Benson, Brad Mittendorf, Gordon McKernan, Brennan Kean, George Gammon, Mitch Taylor.

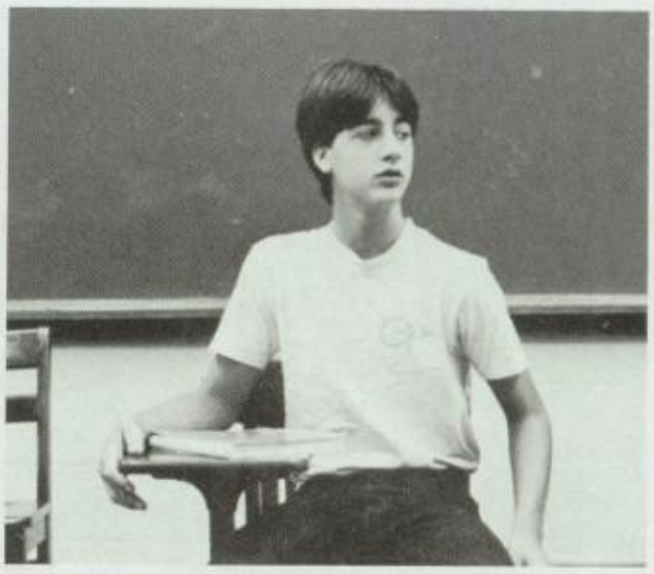
Even the combined efforts of Todd, David, Brennan, and Scott cannot unseat this skillful bull-rider.

During the Key Club blood drive, Angie gives her time and blood to a worthy cause.



Lil' Abner (Lawson) and Daisy Mae (Wendy) invite students to demonstrate their powers of destruction.

1983-84 Key Club Officers: Sponsor—Mr. Tucker; Sgt.-at-Arms—Todd Johnson; Sweetheart—Inga Laughlin; Treas.—Lance Bullock; Vice-Pres.—Brad Mittendorf; Pres.—Lawson Wilder; Sweetheart—Wendy Prudhomme; Sec.—Scott Haile; Sweetheart—Elke Laughlin; Chaplain—Patrick Henry.



After hearing the meeting announced, Jon can hardly wait 'till then for the cookies always brought by the Sweethearts.

Legislative Bill #1
Committee Governmental Affairs

AN ACT

To: Provide an opportunity to enhance and develop knowledge of the American Democratic System in all high school students. BE IT ENACTED BY THE YMCA YOUTH LEGISLATURE OF LOUISIANA

SECTION I

The Hi-Y club will provide its members with practical experience in the governmental system through acting in the roles of Senators, Representatives, Lobbyists, and Press Corp members during sessions of Youth Legislature.

SECTION II

Legislators shall be defined as those who write, research, and defend their own bills and consider, debate, and vote on bills of others. Lobbyists shall be defined as those who try to influence the legislators through confrontations and messages, but who are unable to speak on the floor or vote.
Press Corps members shall be defined as those who are not directly involved with the legislation but observe and write of the people and events of the Youth Legislative session.

SECTION III

The University Hi-Y shall include all students who wish to be members. As of this year, the club is co-ed, and all opportunities provided will be extended to girls also.

SECTION IV

As a club at University High, Hi-Y shall participate in activities such as Sadie Hawkins and trash pick-up. It will also be subject to rules imposed by the administration.

SECTION V

The participation in Youth Legislature shall be funded through sales at a concession stand worked by Hi-Y members, various other fund raisers, and dues collected.

SECTION VI

All laws or parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Patience is disappearing (as well as his hand) as Paul fails to get recognized after standing during the entire debate.

Using facts and figures to answer any questions, Shauna presents a persuasive argument for her lottery bill.

Decisions, decisions . . . in which direction will Charles's vote be swayed?

Hi-Y Officers: Tim Arnold—Treas., Mel Zufall—Sec., Paul Armstrong—Chaplain, Mike Sciacchetano—Vice Pres., Darren Linnartz, Charlie Gamble—Pres.

Waiting to see if her comment has sunk in, Ellen plays her role as a lobbyist, hoping to convince Stephanie and a fellow representative to see her view.

Contemplating the discussions of Hi-Y activities, Mel explores Camp Abbey.

Uniteens:

Uniteens, the largest all-girl service club at U-High, has been very active in a variety of activities. Year-round programs included "Big Sis/Lil' Sis," in which upper-classmen helped the younger girls adjust to high school life; Bernie Moore Stadium clean-up; and upkeep of the school courtyard. Starting in the fall with a Sadie Hawkins' cake walk, events continued with participation in a skate-a-thon and a Christmas party with the FHA. Following in the spring, the club enjoyed having a Banana Split Party, Making gifts and cards for Teacher Appreciation Week, and exchanging gifts during Peanut Pal Week. As one of the most active organizations on campus, Uniteens played a vital role in the 1983-84 school year.

helpful in many ways

Stacking cans collected for Christmas, Martha, Kelly, Rachael, and JoAnn discover new ways to display their artistic ability.

Like most of the Uniteens, Kelly laughs at the thought of picking up trash.

Even though it's not their favorite activity, JoAnn and Kelly pick up trash to help keep the coke machine.

Dismayed by the fact that some Uniteens haven't paid dues, Collette, Laurie, Janna, Jan, and Stacey wish there was more money available for a party.

RULES, RULES, RULES . . . and PRIVILEGES

Rules, rules, rules. It seems that everyone is governed by rules. There are many that students must abide by. These include not chewing gum in class, not getting "overly" rowdy at the pep rally, not going to lockers during class, and not leaving campus during school hours—unless you're a privileged senior. This may seem to be many "do not's," but U-High students enjoy many privileges, including using the Coke machine after school and having an hour of freedom during lunch. Most importantly, we are recognized and respected as individuals.

Although there are rules against food in class, this cake—proclaiming that we are once again state champs—is allowed.

Going to your locker during class is not allowed, so Mark, Brent, and Stacey go between classes.

Middle school students show their good conduct while also displaying much spirit during pep rally.

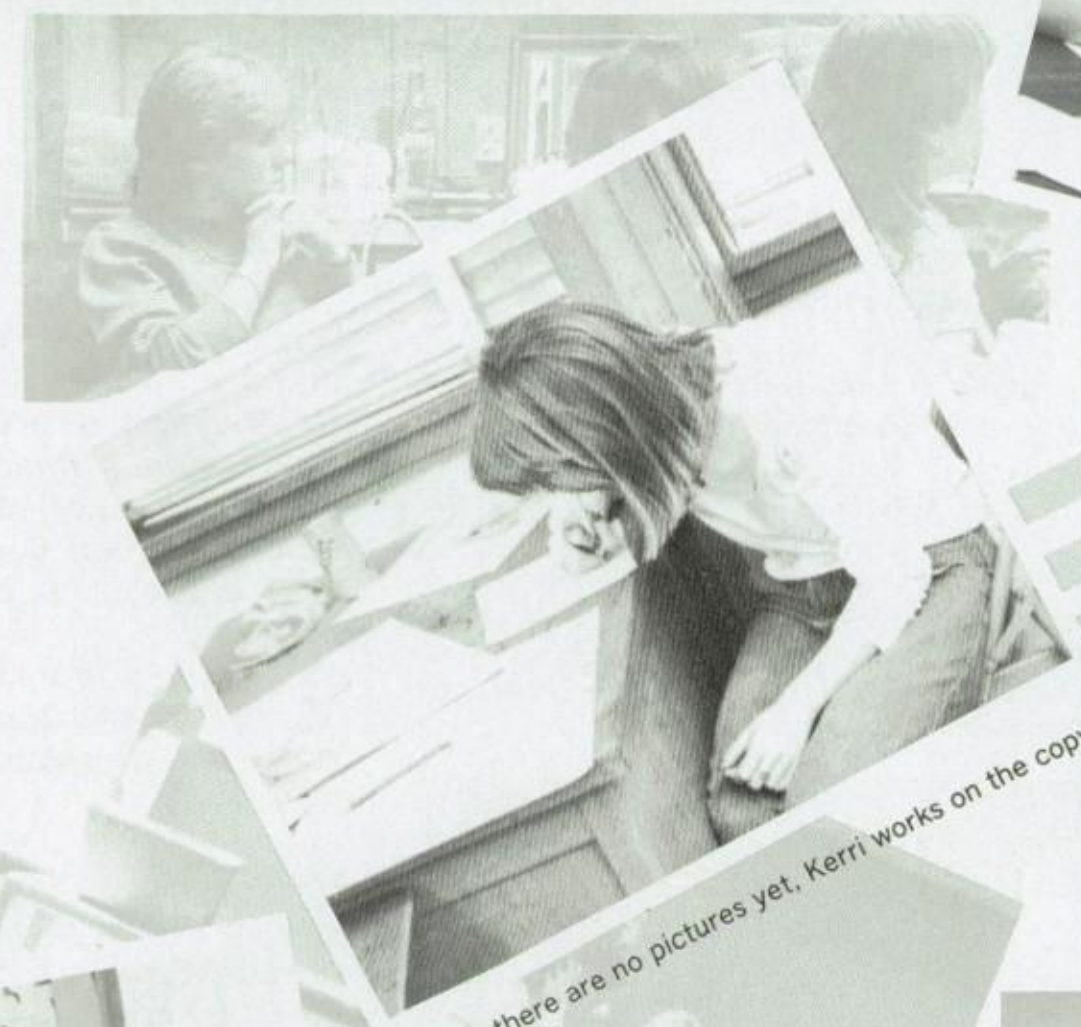
Dr. Fox does not put up with any kind of monkey business—unless he's surprised on his birthday.

Though gossiping in class is not allowed, Megan and Lisa find time between classes.

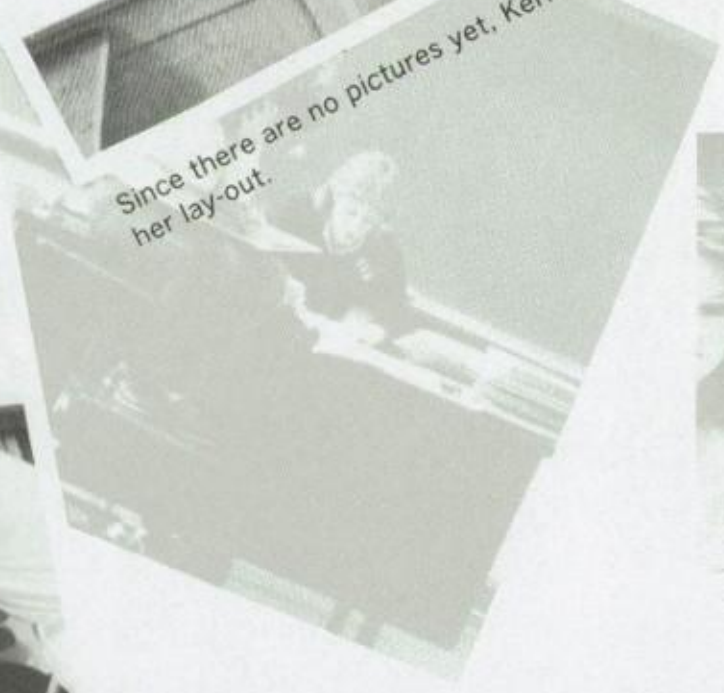
These students hustle to class to avoid clinic for tardies.

Looking around for help, Rachel wonders how on earth she can crop all the people for such a little space.

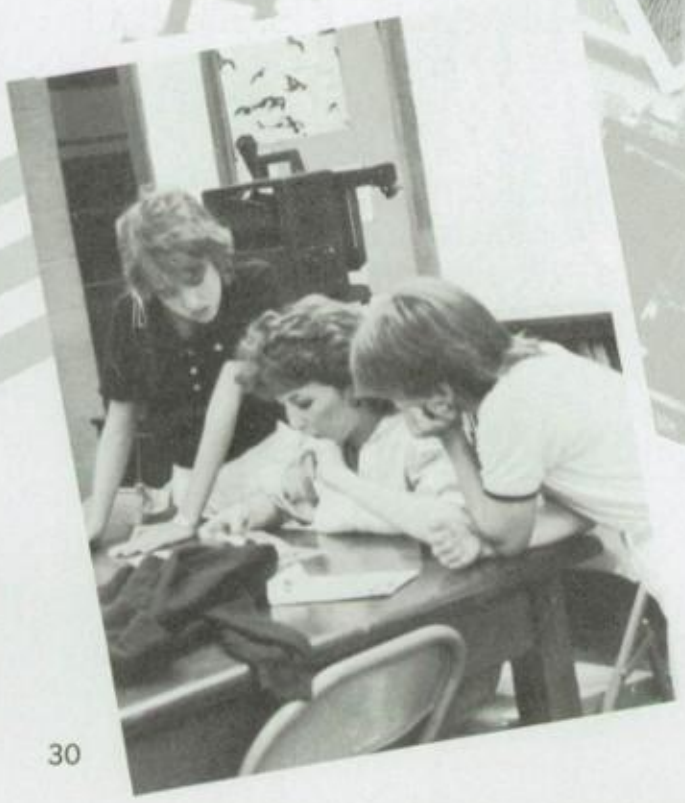
Supposedly looking at lay-out styles, Martha and Rachel search for cute guys, while Renee actually works.



Since there are no pictures yet, Kerri works on the copy for her lay-out.



Listening to hints at a yearbook workshop, JoAnn gathers ideas while Sharon wonders why she got up so early on a Saturday.



Sometimes words just cannot be found—as Jennifer, Nici, and Martha know from experience.

The light dawns on Stephanie as she realizes how to organize her lay-out.

Almost Never-Ending YEARBOOK

"All layouts . . . today!"

"I still don't have Uniteen pics!"

"Thought you had enough pictures."

"No photographer at the meeting!"

"SCROUNGE!"

"I need help on football caps."

"Somebody taking pictures at the girls' game tonight?"

"Where's my layout? It's gone!"

"You're editor! Make up a Homecoming headline."

"What's the copy say?"

"Remember the different aspects of the game, court, dance?"

"How about 'Homecoming—Back Again'?"

"Youre kiddin' . . . Gotta do better!"

"Well, title it like a paper."

"Where's my pictures?"

"SCROUNGE!"

"Who's next to #81?"

"Is anybody in this club?"

"No! It's MY turn for help!"

"Where can we take Winter Formal Court pictures?"

"How about in the Faculty Club?"

"OK, but there's a wedding there this Sat. Gotta be Wed."

"No tuxes by then. Back to Sat."

"Some of the Court can't come then."

"Luckett's said Thursday."

"Faculty Club said Wednesday."

"What about Cohn Turner's ad?"

"SCROUNGE!"

"We're goin' to the Law Bldg. Want anything?"

"Here's French & Spanish! A second print."

"The copy has to be here!"

"The NHS & Hi-Y pages are typed. Will you proof them?"

"Yeah. We got layouts back from Dr. Fox."

"That means we can mail when Mrs. Exner & Dr. Fox proof these three!"

"We're finished!!"

"Oh, no! What about . . . ?"

"SCROUNGE!"

The 1983-84 CUB Staff: first row—Jennifer Walsh, Kerri Donham, Kristen Rinquest, Terri Fergus, Nici Monlezun, Stephanie Hyde, Martha Stuckey. Second row—Kelly Gray, Kelly Hutson, Renee Shaab, Susannah Fowler, Rachel Martin, Lindsey Smith, JoAnn Kurts. Third row—Bobby Williams, Hale Arnas—editor, Susan Gustwick—editor, Sharon Barker.

PICTURES, PICTURES, AND MORE . . .

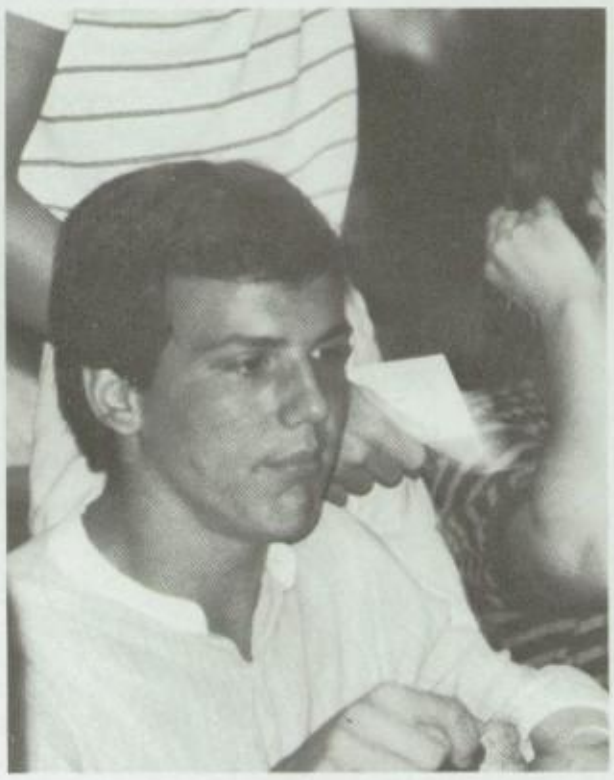
As Jim shows, the eyes of a photographer must be protected at all times!

Focusing is most important. Right, Kristin?

Craig displays the tools of the trade.

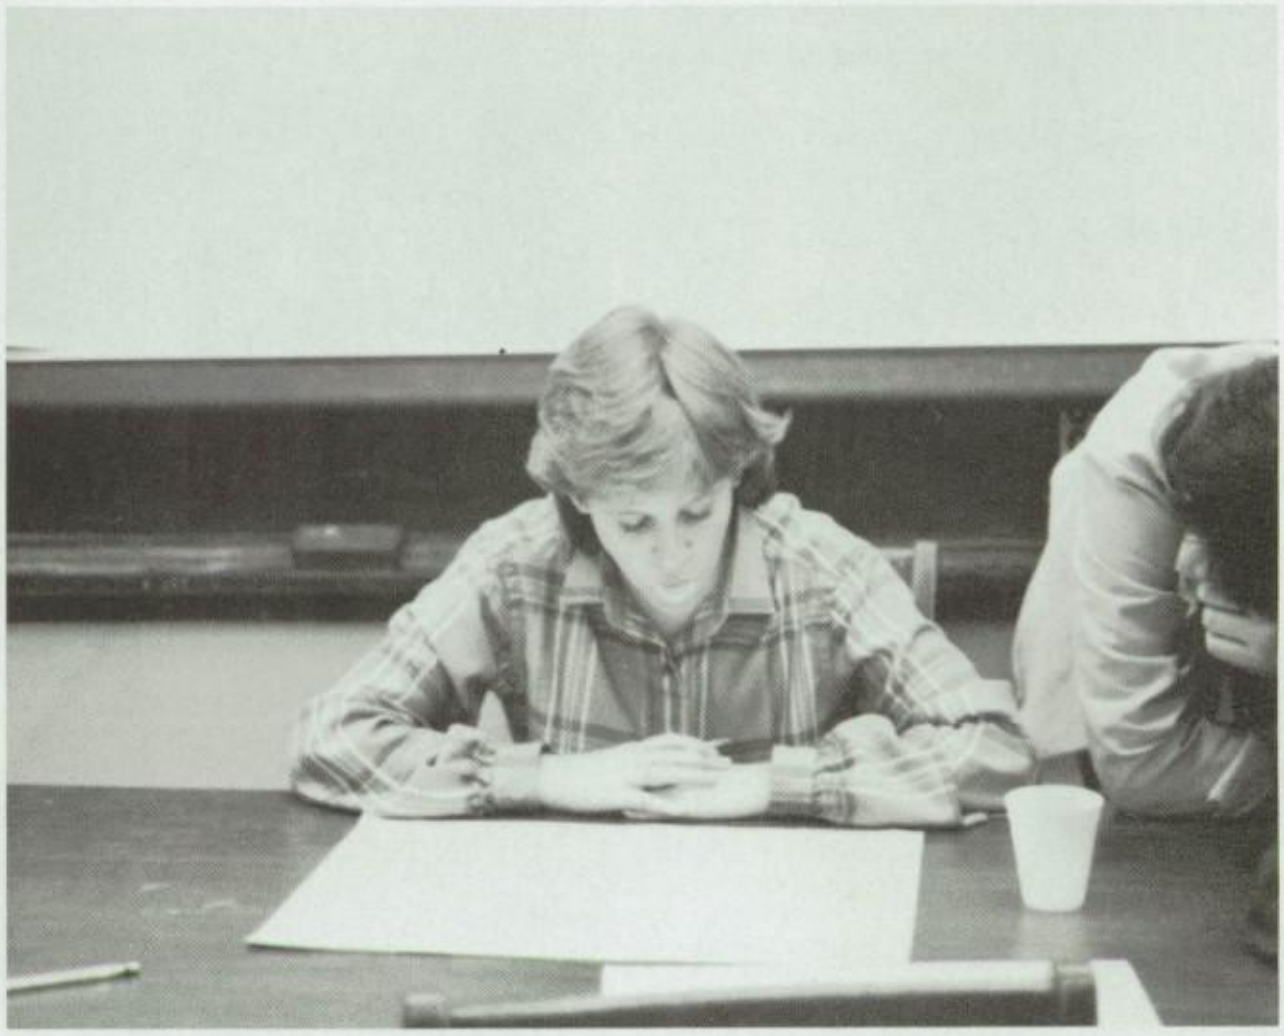
If ONLY I'd brought my camera—Paul.

Trying to get that perfect picture, Clay oftentimes finds himself in precarious situations.



Looking for the best placement of pictures, Jo Ann puts together another exciting layout.

Concentration—even on blowing bubbles—is the key to Kelly's contributions to the yearbook.



And What to Do with Them!

Rachel studies other yearbooks for ideas.

Ready to go home, Martha is tired of trying to think up captions for teachers.

HOMECOMING . . .

Homecoming . . . a word that suggests something unique to each person involved.

To the football team, a spirit of athletic intensity prevails. Their strenuous practices, coupled with vigorous cooperation, led the Cubs to a victory over Ascension Catholic.

To the Homecoming Court, an aura of excitement intermingled with nervousness exists. They radiated elegance and grace while being presented to the immense crowd at Bernie Moore Stadium.

To the remaining U-High students, anticipation of finding a date for the dance, enjoyment of the early morning pep breakfast, frustration from standing in the endless picture line occupied their every spare minute.

INTENSITY . . . EXCITEMENT . . . ANTICIPATION . . . HOMECOMING!!

Dr. James Fox, the principal, crowns Sophie Tasker, the 1984 Homecoming Queen. She is escorted by Oliver Brown, a returning senior.

The 1984 Homecoming Court, escorted by returning seniors. Pictured are Jeff Martin; Marcy Hill, junior maid; Lucie Lauve, returning senior maid; Dr. James Fox, principal; Leigh Ann Guedry, returning senior maid; Oliver Brown; Sophie Tasker, Queen; Ashley Daniel, senior maid; Dennis Mann; Inga Laughlin, senior maid; Paul Eames; Trisha Baptiste, sophomore maid; Dean Bartel; Kim Baker, freshman maid.

After the ceremony, the Queen and her maids proudly display their beautiful bouquets and charming smiles.

During the game, Trisha, Marcy, and Kim anxiously await halftime.

Escorted by Dennis Mann, Ashley and Inga flash their dazzling smiles. Who wouldn't?

. . . something unique to each person involved.

Feeling the magic created by the powerful music, Leslie and Travis dance the night away.

Jammin'—Patrick and his date show us the way it's done.

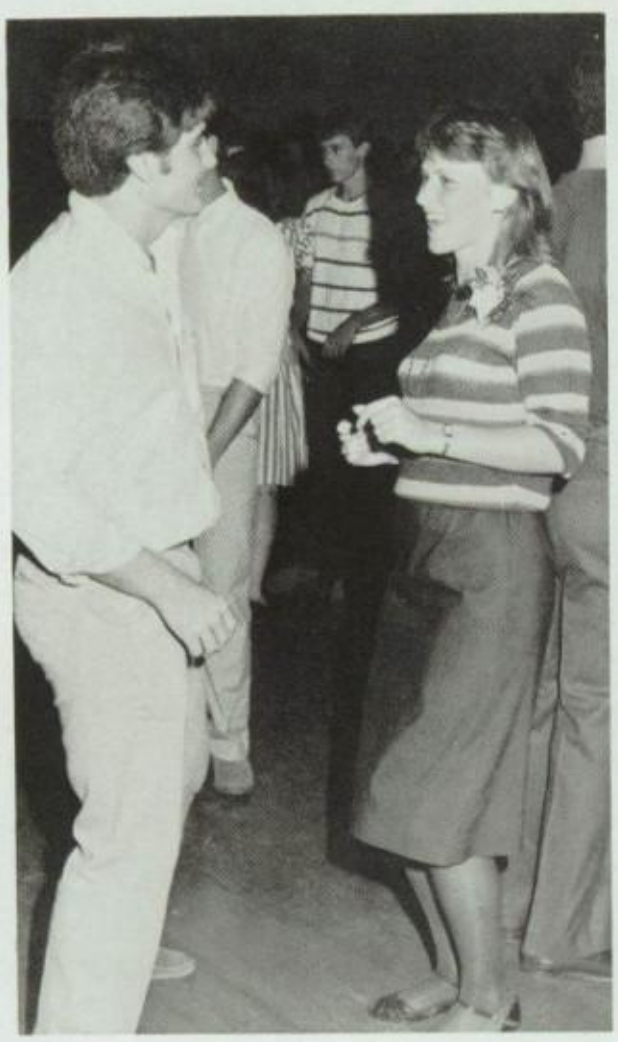
It's already 11:30 p.m.? Trey and Clay cannot believe it!

Swept off her feet, Anne enjoys her date.

Dancing is catchy at homecoming, as shown by Laurie, Colette, Marcia, and their dates.

After dancing, many students bought refreshments for their dates.

Feeling exhausted from the dance, Merle whispers to Randy that she wants to leave.



The queen (Sophie) and HER king (Brent).

Everyone enjoyed the dance as Brennan and his date, Chandler, show us.

Over the loud music, Marc and Karen try to have a conversation.

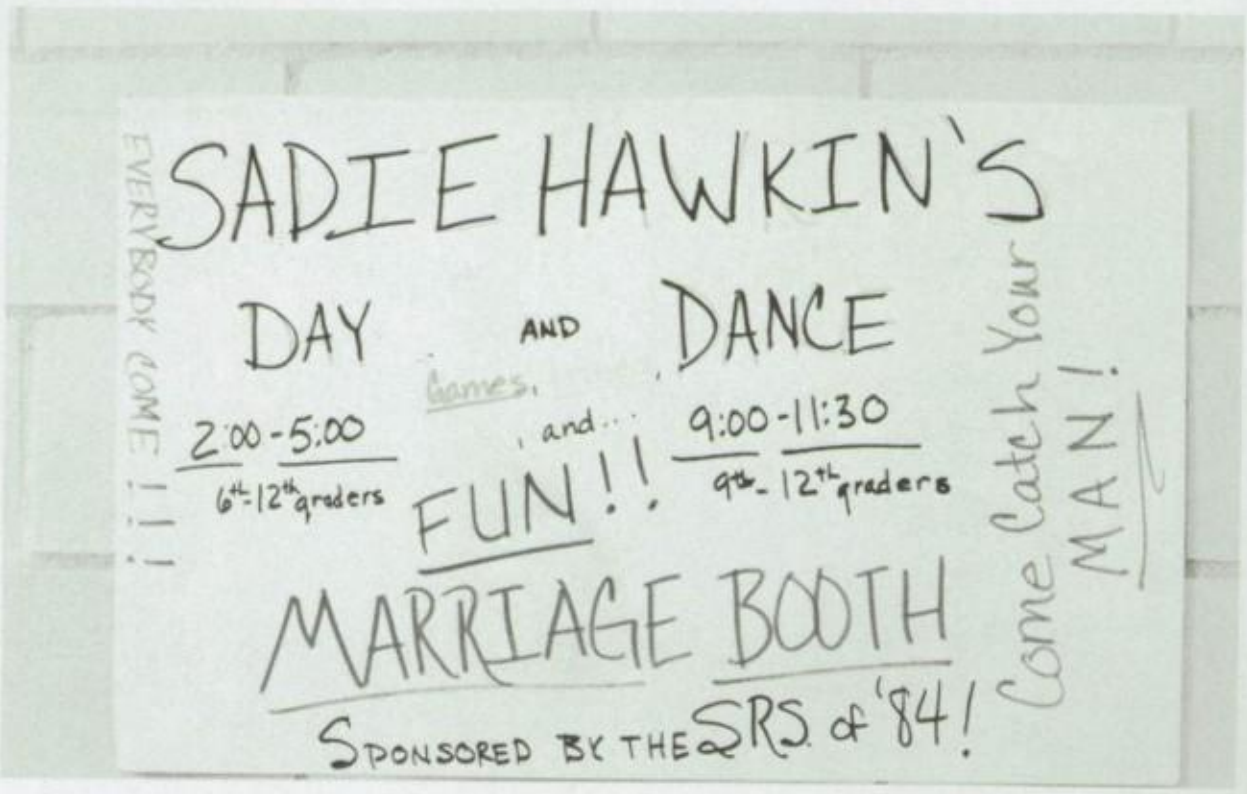
SADIE HAWKINS' DAY

Some boys can be so silly, huh, Ashley? Just because you caught Bradley instead of Eric.

"Aren't we cute?!!"-Some Sr. boys pose for a picture.

compliments of the seniors of '84.

The gun goes off and the girls speedily race after the quickly disappearing boys.



The Sr. class posters, telling all about festivities to come, line the school walls.

Lil' Abner (Lawson) doesn't look like he minds having been caught by Daisy Mae (Wendy).

Despite the efforts of Kurt, George, and Buddy, David holds fast on the Key Club's bullride.

Sponsored by the Key Club, the car smash was really a "smash" when everyone found out he could hit his favorite (?) teacher.

It's October 29th, "Pow"-the race starts and the girls chase after their man. Let's watch closely . . . Puff! Wheeze! Unless Daisy Mae pays one of the sheriffs to come fetch me, she'll never find me hidin' in this here bush! So what if I don't get hitched or get my picture took. So what if I miss all the games, the bull ride, the car smash or the 'tater sack race. And so what if I miss all the swingin' music and . . . the yummy vittles! Hey-Daisy Mae! I'm in this yere bush! Look, here I are! . . . And this is typical Sadi Hawkins' Day at University High.

Settling down in the hay, Kim, Rachel, Karen, Mary, and Roy anticipate an enjoyable ride.

Come one—come all,

ladies and gentlemen, students and children and parents—FANS!

Hoping to quench their thirst, Benny and Andrew order as many cokes as their money will buy, although nineteen is a few too many.

Filming the game for future replay is only one of Jim's talents. He also provided all program and half time music.

Never too young to be a Cub fan, Ms. Tonore's second graders are amazed at the varsity team line-up.

Nothing can settle down U-High spirit once it is aroused.

The enthusiasm of Brunson has its own unique style.

Rain or shine, Cub fans always come through.

Even the police participate in supporting the Cubs.

Watching intently, Brad does not miss a second of the action as he announces the game.

Come one—come all, ladies and gentlemen, students and children, brothers, sisters, and parents—Fans! All come to support the Cubs. Whether it be in the press box, behind the counters, or throughout the stands, the spirit overflows into the game.

Athletic competition requires many more participants than just the players. Announcers, scorekeepers, concession stand workers, and fans all are needed also to make a team perform its very best! Mom's Club, Dad's Club, and individual students help tremendously in filling these jobs. The fans come in all sizes and ages—from little sisters and brothers to excited students to anxious, proud parents and grandparents. All supporters come faithfully to U-High athletic events.

Those two loyal and devoted Cub fans . . .

"Glory, honor and . . . WORK!!"

Enthusiastic about the upcoming game, Alice and Angie try to "pep up" the Cubs.

Showing Cub spirit, Alice and Angie cheer for the Cubs. But wait, Angie doesn't seem to know what to do next.

While attempting to prepare Quick Kick for the team, Angie shows a look of concern for the fighting Cubs.

Hard at work, Alice and Angie take time out to put on their best smiles for the Cubs.

A thrill for only two girls each year, becoming a Sponsor is more work than it first appears to be. After being selected in the spring, Alice Stuckey and Angie Bivin accepted the responsibility of organizing the Spring Sports Banquet. Finally remembering what to take to the track meets, they mastered the art of preparing the secret Cub formula—Quick Kick, which was to be used time and time again, both for football and for basketball. The glorious year ended with the successful preparation of the Fall Sports Banquet. "Little" jobs like creating original locker notes, concocting pep rally favors, and loading heavy ice chests are just some of the tasks of the sponsors. Even though it was hard work, Alice and Angie enjoyed supporting the Cubs, and the Cubs appreciated their support.

U.H.S. Cub Sponsors: Angie Bivin and Alice Stuckey.

Working hard, Alice attempts to let out a glamorous smile.

In spite of her never-ending duties, we can always catch Alice smiling.

Giggling to herself as she prepares the Quick-Kick, Angie thinks about the Cub's upcoming victory.

Wondering what to do next, Angie and Alice appear confused. After all this time—you would think they could remember!

Everyone's SPIRIT

Everyone's Pride

Even after a long game and heavy rainfall, our cheerleaders still have plenty of pep and pretty smiles for Cub fans.

It takes style to do those cheers right; Shariba shows that style perfectly.

The unbounded spirit and energy of the 1983-84 cheerleaders helped make this school year one of the best ever. They made spirit bags, painted numerous signs and posters, and as usual, helped with the Homecoming breakfast and the spaghetti supper—both great successes due to the cheerleaders.

How can Shannon get excited over schoolwork when she'd rather be yelling for the Cubs!

Collette leads her fans in a rousing yell during one of the big games.

Jumping for joy, Julie peps up the Cub spirit at one of the pep rallies.

Perfect motion—Jan and Arden coordinate their moves for a polished look during the football games.

The signs and posters appear each day before a game—thanks to Arden and Leigh Anne, among others.

Setting up for the Spaghetti Dinner was one of Leigh Anne's big moments for this year.

This year of "Mighty Cub Spirit" was one that Collette "Starry" Brown, Shannon "Sparky" Field, Leigh Anne "Spiffy" Woodland, Arden "Storkey" Riffel, Julie "Smiley" Brittenum, Shariba "Snazzy" Hawkins, Leigh Anne "Sporty" Netterville, and Jan "Spacey" Coates will never forget.

READY!

Boosters Boosters, Are you ready?

"You'd better get those girls quieter! I won't drive another foot until they are quiet!" demanded the Booster bus driver. Reluctantly the girls toned down the singing, but nothing could dampen their steadfast spirit. Even though the game was a loss to Point Coupee, the Boosters continued to shout, cheer, and sing (though a bit more quietly) their support for the Cubs.

Throughout the football and basketball seasons, this spirit played a very active role in contributing to wins. During the week of Homecoming, football players and coaches never went to class hungry. Their secret Boosters had decorated lockers with ribbons, bows, cards, and small party favors—not to mention cookies, cakes, pan cookies, brownies, jumbo cookies, candy, and more cookies. Nobody wanted the football team to lack energy in the upcoming game.

Activities of this spirit organization were far from limited to school time. Many early Saturday mornings saw the girls ringing doorbells, determined to raise enough money for the replacement of the old B-suits. By the third football game, new uniforms had arrived. Showing off the black and gold pleated skirts with black bibs and white shirts, Boosters seemed to show off even more of their great Cub pride.

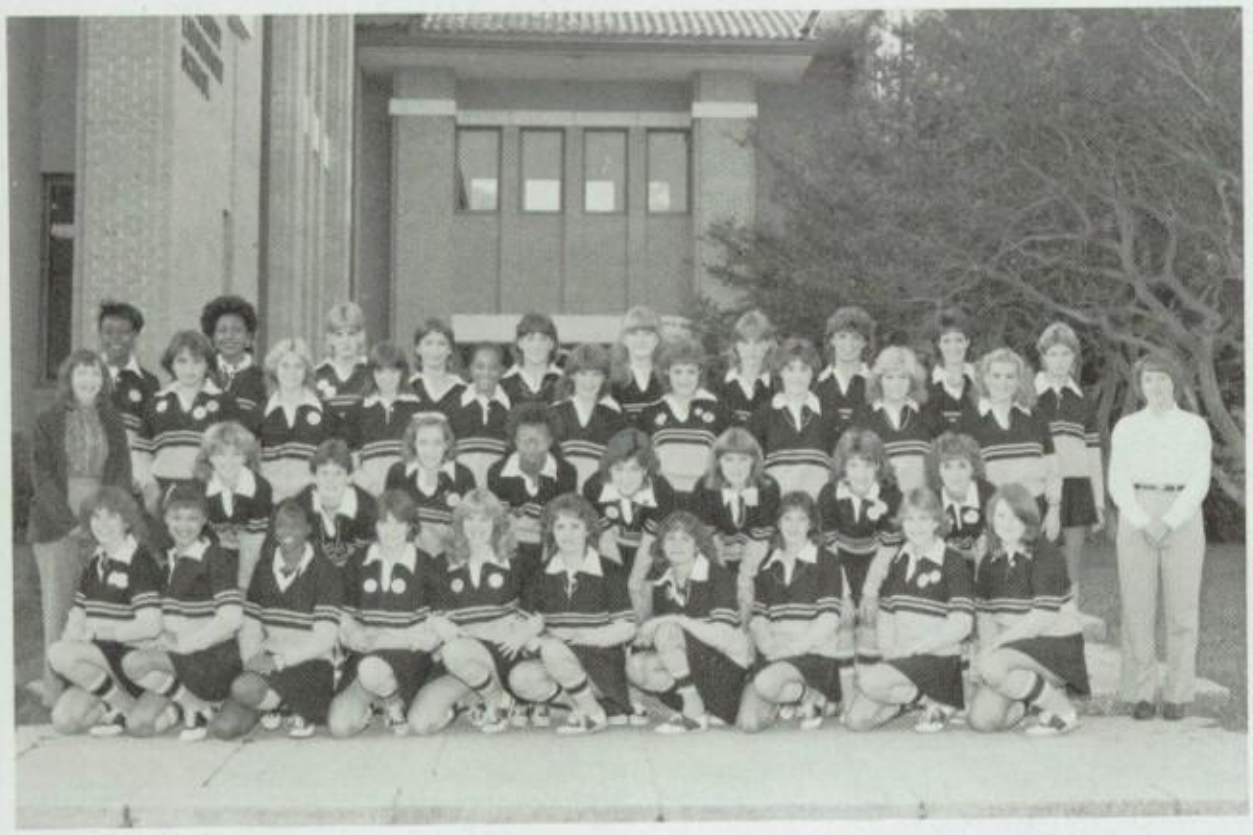
The "old" uniforms were brought out of retirement in January by the newly organized Jr. Boosters, composed of freshmen. Aided by their "Booster Buddies"—sophomores, juniors, and seniors—,the Jr. Boosters soon learned the cheers and added a new burst of spirit to the basketball session.

During all seasons, Booster activities were almost endless. Under the supervision of new sponsors Mrs. Freiberg and Mrs. Jendrzejewski, the girls did everything from painting run-throughs to cheering at the games to helping pick up trash at Bernie Moore Stadium afterwards, and more. Of course, they've supported the Cubs with great spirit—They're the University High Boosters!

Booster Officers: Janna Maestri, 1st Vice Pres.; Marcy Hill, 2nd Vice Pres.; Beth Harrell, Sgt.-at-Arms; Ashley Smart, Pres.; Courtney Smart, Treas.; Shalane Martin, Sec.; Elizabeth Blackwell, Sgt.-at-Arms.

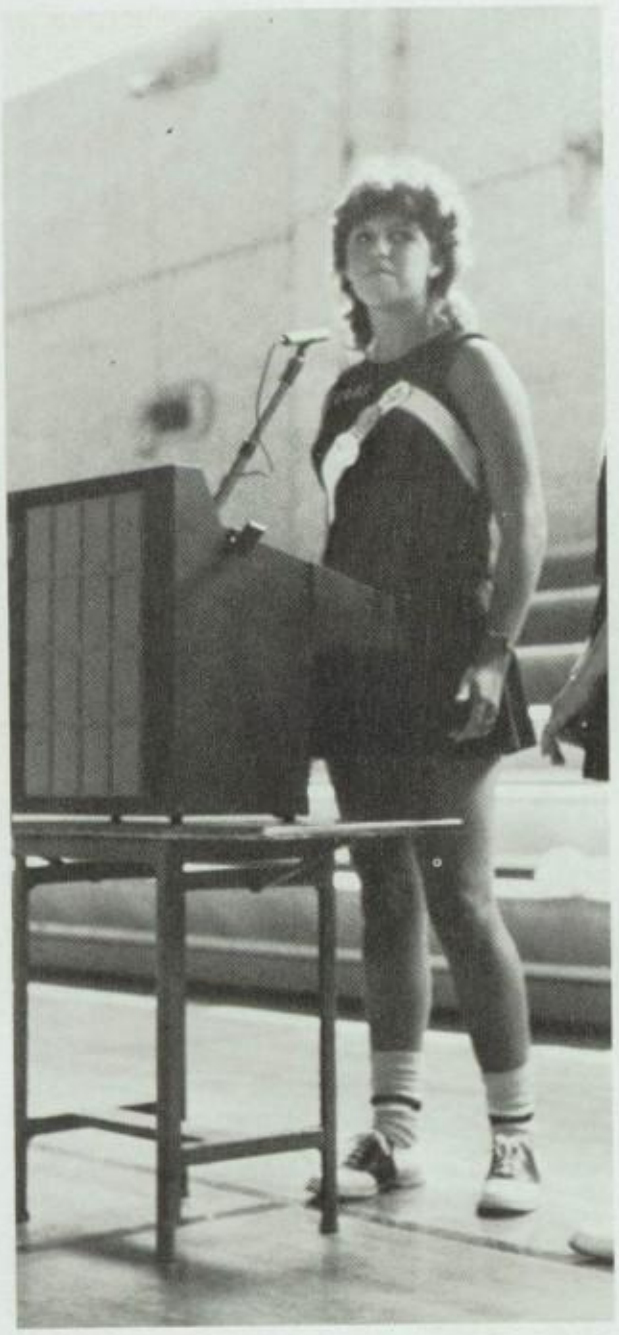
At Bernie Moore Stadium, Boosters cheered the Cubs on to another victory.

A picture says a thousand words. Mrs. J and Mrs. Freiberg dare not utter their thoughts about Booster bus rides.



1984 Boosters: Bottom Row—Gretchen Guidry, Trisha Baptiste, Marilyn Hamilton, Robyn Bennett, Jackie Lord, Kathy Dry, Elizabeth Blackwell, Susie Quinn, Beth Harrell, JoAnn Kurts; 2nd Row—Allyson Wood, Elise Bateman, Wendy Hall, Nicole Raby, Susan Lavergne, Merle Lauve, Julie Thomas, Marcy Hill; 3rd Row—Mrs. Jendrzejewski (advisor), Anne Haight, Shannon May, Tammy Henbry, Sheri Hamilton, Sheryl Lee, Beckie Larguier, Susan Easterly, Ysonde Boland, Shalane Martin, Mrs. Freiberg (advisor); Top Row—Angela Bruns, Lisa Hightower, Debbie Merrill, Courtney Smart, Leslie McKenzie, Ashley Ward, Monique delaHoussaye, Ashley Smart, Janna Maestri, Whitney Baird.

Through cold, rain, and mud, the Boosters are still able to show their Cub spirit.



Holding her breath to build up suspense, Ashley waits to reveal the Booster of the Week.

The Pep Rally is opened with a running start from the Boosters.

HARD WORK PAYS OFF

MAJORETTES

Practice adds to perfection for these majorettes.

A brief moment of concentration captures Capris as she awaits her cue.

Sudie struts her stuff at a U-High Pep Rally.

During the game's excitement, the girls pause to take a picture.

1983-84 Majorettes: sitting—Ashley Daniel, Sudie McCool, Marcia Sotile, Anne Shirley; standing—Lee Robin, Capris Johnson, Laura Parker, Sarah Downing, Shannon Downs, and Krista Cartledge

CUB SPIRIT SHINES through the eyes of Laura and Lee.

To perfect their skills, this year's majorettes attended camp during the summer. Led by Captain Sudie McCool, the majorettes practiced everyday after school in preparation for the Friday night games. Their hard work paid off: perfect performance at pep rallies, half-times, and during home football games.

After-school practices add the final touches for the performance on Friday night.

Sarah's got it; Sudie doesn't; and Shannon isn't sure.

Mastering her routine, Sarah prepares for a Pep Rally.

Happy Feet

From the announcement of audition results to their final routine, the dance group strived to perform with perfection. During a week of camp at McNeese University, they won two trophies—one for the best original dance routine and another for overall excellence. This excellence was extended throughout the year as the group continued with long hours of practice to provide entertainment at pep rallies, football, and basketball games. At all of these events, their happy feet danced with Cub enthusiasm.

led the dance group through kicks, sashays, points, and side-steps.

With plenty of smiles all around, Tobi, Marque Ann, Cynthia, Laurie, Marie, Anne, Tara, and Stacey are "putting on the Ritz" for half-time entertainment.

The group makes a convenient turn in rehearsal to catch a glimpse of those cute K.A.'s across the street.

With a flair for the dramatic, Stacey shows her sense of style in a half-time routine.

In anticipation of another Cub victory, Marque Ann and Cynthia take time out to smile for the camera.

Flushed with success, Anne is either finishing an exciting dance routine—or taking part in a revival.

PEP BAND & STAGE CREW

CHARGE! The notes ring out at every pep rally as the pep band generates excitement for the upcoming game! Selflessly giving of their time and talent, pep band members are a definite asset to CUB athletics. CONCERTS . . . TRAVELING TROUPES . . . MIKADO . . . The stage crew volunteers its services so that we may enjoy such events. To these skilled and devoted guys whom we tend to take for granted—THANK YOU!!

In the depths of the storage room, Darren and Quentin assemble their instruments.

Everyday at the beginning of seventh hour, people file into the band room. Members start getting out horns, putting together instruments, tuning up, and preparing the day's order of music. Dr. Choate warms up the band and then proceeds to lead them in practice. Some of the students had already come during lunch, and others will stay after school for additional time in sectionals. Through the hours, weeks, and months, the band learns, refines, and polishes its music and becomes a finely tuned group. The practice pays off.

Two impressive concerts—one at Christmas with the choir and one in the spring—reflected this successful practice. The band also earned high ratings at the District and State Festivals, while individuals performed well in All-Parish Band and in Solo & Ensemble Festival. Because of the time dutifully spent in practice, the band has shown, again, the excellent quality traditional at U-High.

Lunch time rehearsals really pay off for Stephanie and Kristin.

In preparation for the Christmas Concert, Mrs. Hallman leads warm-ups on the piano.

Can this really be one of those grueling rehearsals we've heard of?

This year's choir was one of the largest at U-High in several years. Under Mrs. Hallman's dedicated and expert leadership, the choir worked hard to present exciting performances during the year. The first semester was devoted to the Christmas concert, while the second semester saw the choir working on costumes and set for Gilbert and Sullivan's MIKADO, a great success. The success of these devoted choir members has given us all musical memories.

YES, VIRGINIA—

There is a Santa Claus.

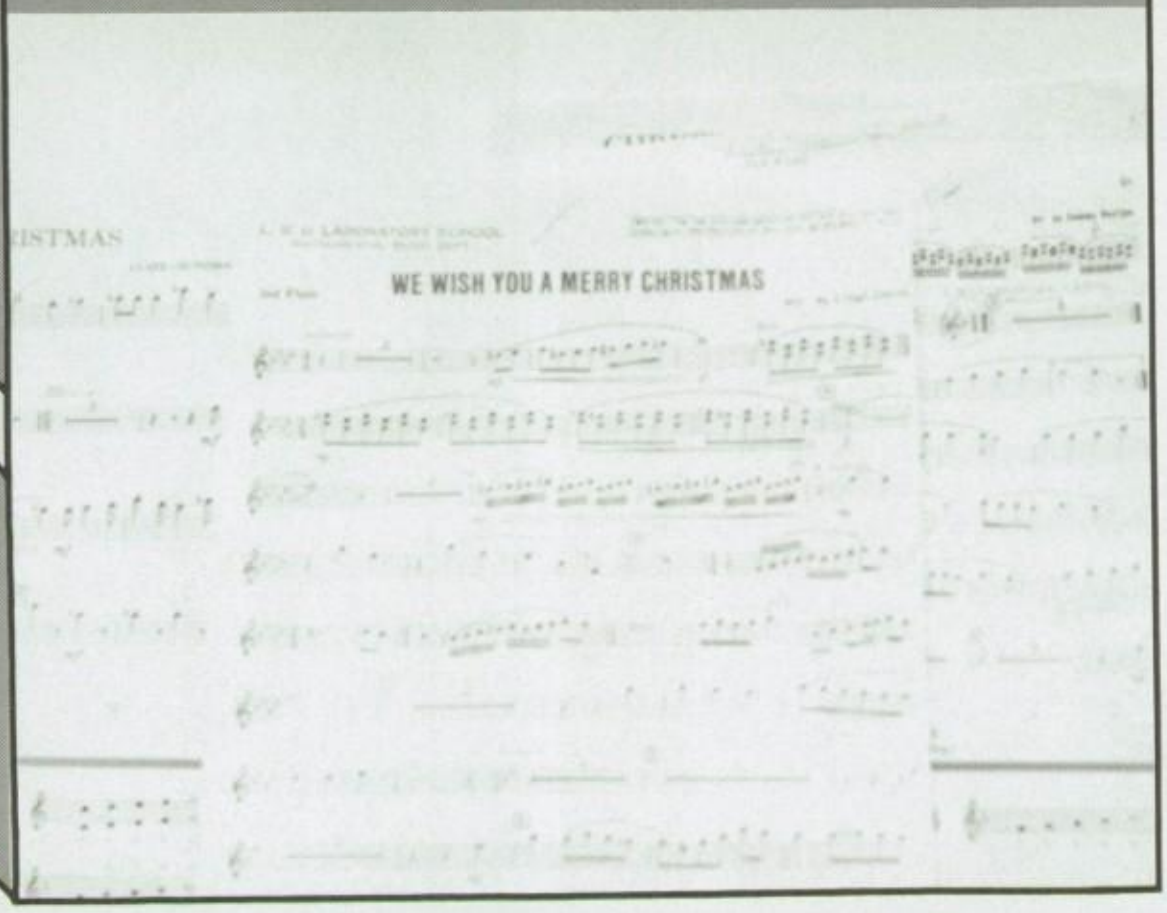
The high school choir's Chirstmas concert enhanced the season's spirit around U-High.

Christmas: time of giving—a pup for a Uniteens "sister."

Santa Claus listens sympathetically to Christmas lists.

At the Spanish Club party, everyone had fun in her own way.

The high school band kept the traditional Christmas spirit when they played their traditional carol.



Using the camera as an excuse to get close, Scott, Karen, Beth, and Todd enjoy the first Christmas party at U-High.

Dear Santa,

I have been very good all year . . . except on weekends. Please accept the milk and cookies that I'll leave out on the table as an apology for the mischiefs. For this Christmas I want:

1. A stocking full of toys.
2. Enough time to decorate my friends' lockers.
3. To do well in the Christmas concert.
4. Many parties to go to.
5. My parents to give what they already know I want.
6. More school days off.
7. Someone to keep me warm during the cold weather.

Thanks!—Virginia

P.S. I hope you come before my little sister gets up and eats all the cookies!!

January 18th. At 7:30 p.m. the competition begins with "Junior" Olympics. The events requiring incredible athletic skill included plucking the ping-pong ball off the coke bottle, plunking the penny into the cup, and fracturing the backboard with frisbees. The ultimate feat involved mummifying (with toilet paper) two students in each class.

January 19th. The posters go up. The newspaper highlighting achievements of Doctor and Nurse Cubs, the graffiti-covered brick wall, the Oriental karate expert, and the Dr. Jekyll mad scientist.

January 20th. The main competition begins. The freshman street gang, the sophomore mad scientists, the junior Orientals, and the senior doctors and nurses. Cheers and songs reverberate in the gym as each class professes its greatness. A hush then overcomes

Truly a Success!

No matter how long the line, everyone is willing to wait for the F.H.A. doughnuts!

The F.H.A. not only participated in Sadie Hawkins' and held their annual Pep Breakfast during Homecoming Week, but they also raised money by selling M & M's. Members then attended an F.H.A. conference in Hammond during February. Always active and having many parties, this year's F.H.A. was truly a success.

The 1983-84 U-High French Club became more dynamic and active with each passing month's festivities. In November and in December, they collected food for needy families. They also attended festivals, including the State ALC Festival Convention, in September and December. Andrea Williams and Club President Hale Arnas convincingly spoke in December to the Board of Elementary and Secondary Education in favor of mandatory foreign languages in public schools. In March was National Foreign Language Week, with festivals attended by club members. In April, the club rewarded itself with a tubing trip and a trip to New Orleans. The new club officers for the 84-85 school year were elected at their annual end-of-the-year party in May.

The 1983-84 Spanish Club's monthly projects began in October with the club's successful Penny Toss at Sadie Hawkins Day. November was highlighted by the club's annual Pot Luck Supper and by the collection of food for needy families. Holiday festivities heightened when the club, in cooperation with the French Club, gave a Christmas party in December. Sweetheart and Big/Little Sister Week was on the club's agenda for February, while in March they donned costumes for a masquerade gala. Foreign Language Week always brings festivals where students exhibit in competitions their foreign language skills. During the Easter break, many members of the club went to Puerta Vallarta and Guadalajara, Mexico. The club brought the successful year to an end with their annual end-of-the-year party. The club officers for the 1983-84 year were Shari Hawkins—president, Nicole Raby—vice president, Leigh Anne Woodland—secretary, Leslie McKenzie—treasurer.

Rainbow-hued balloons, glittery-green clovers—all showed the enthusiastic spirit of the Art Club throughout the year. At Homecoming, Bernie Moore Stadium was filled with balloons, foreshadowing the dance's theme of "Up, Up, and Away." In October, faces were painted with stars, hearts, and flowers during Sadie Hawkins to support the seniors' project. Santa's chimney scene, a backdrop for pictures with Santa himself, added to the Christmas spirit. Winter Formal in February, decorated as Winter Wonderland, was followed by St. Patrick's Day symbols for the Twirp Dance. Through their artistic talents, members made special events a "sight to behold."

Representing U-High's Best,

THE NHS

New NHS members Stephanie and Shannon listen intently to Mr. Garner about their new responsibilities.

"The purpose of the National Honor Society is to create enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote leadership, and to develop character in the students of secondary schools. Membership in the National Honor Society is both an honor and a responsibility."

Selected by the faculty from the junior and senior classes, nominees must demonstrate the qualities of scholarship, leadership, service, and character. The scholarship rating is based on a 3.500 grade-point average minimum, whereas the ratings for the remaining three qualities are based on such characteristics as innovativeness, friendliness, dependability, courtesy, and morality. Having shown these qualities, new members of the U-High chapter of N.H.S. were initiated at a banquet in March. As part of the induction ceremony, each new member recited the N.H.S. pledge:

"I pledge myself to uphold the high purposes of the National Honor Society to which I have been elected; I will be true to the principles for which it stands; I will be loyal to my school and I will maintain and encourage high standards of scholarship, leadership, service, and character."

The primary role of the N.H.S. is to organize Honors Day, held in May. N.H.S. members represent U-High's BEST!

Doing Homework, Studying, And Taking Tests:

Along with the enjoyment of the many extra-curricular activities comes the main purpose of our attendance at University High: academics. Each class offers a different challenge which we all must face and conquer. For the typical freshman, this means adjusting to the rigorous high school standards. Whether it is learning the values of "x" and "y" in algebra or the composition skills in English I or the progression of a bill in civics, each freshman must meet the demands of his classes. Sophomore classes increase in degrees of difficulty. They all have to diagram, diagram, diagram in English II and compile a neat, concise, and—above all—accurate plant collection for biology. The level of difficulty increases for the juniors. Studying elements in the three physical states in chemistry, learning more about the values of "x" and "y" in Algebra II, analyzing American History Illustrated articles in American History, and writing frequent "fright writes" in English III are just some of their academic challenges. However, the most difficult year is that faced by the Seniors. Their challenge involves meeting not only the rigorous demands of college-preparatory classes but also those of their many extra-curricular activities. (In addition, "senioritis"—a very serious "disease"—often infects these upperclassmen.) From constructing and firing rockets in physics, to mastering the computer in computer science, to "shedding blood, sweat, and tears" over the research paper in English IV, seniors struggle to prepare themselves for college.

These subjects along with other academic and elective courses, require much of us students. But all of the studying and struggling has its rewards, which include participation in rally competitions, recognition at Honors Day, and finally selection to the National Honor Society for excellence in scholarship, leadership, service, and character. The most important reward, however, is that of self-satisfaction: knowing that you have faced difficult challenges—with success.

With pen in hand and liquid paper close by, Kelly works continuously, trying to get her speech completed on time.

Sitting quietly in Mrs. O'Brien's room, Scott very anxiously takes his time in considering his advanced math test problems.

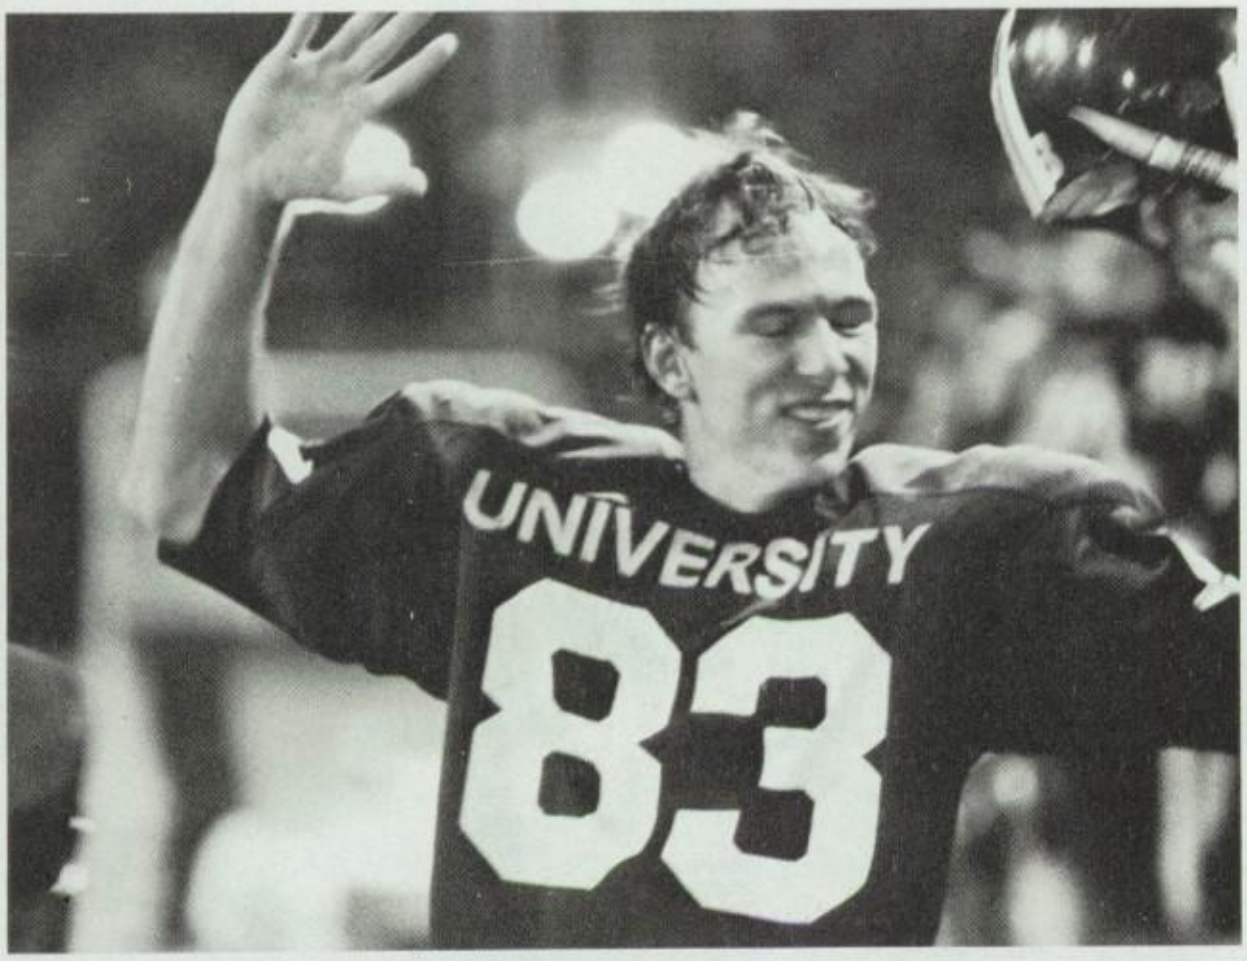
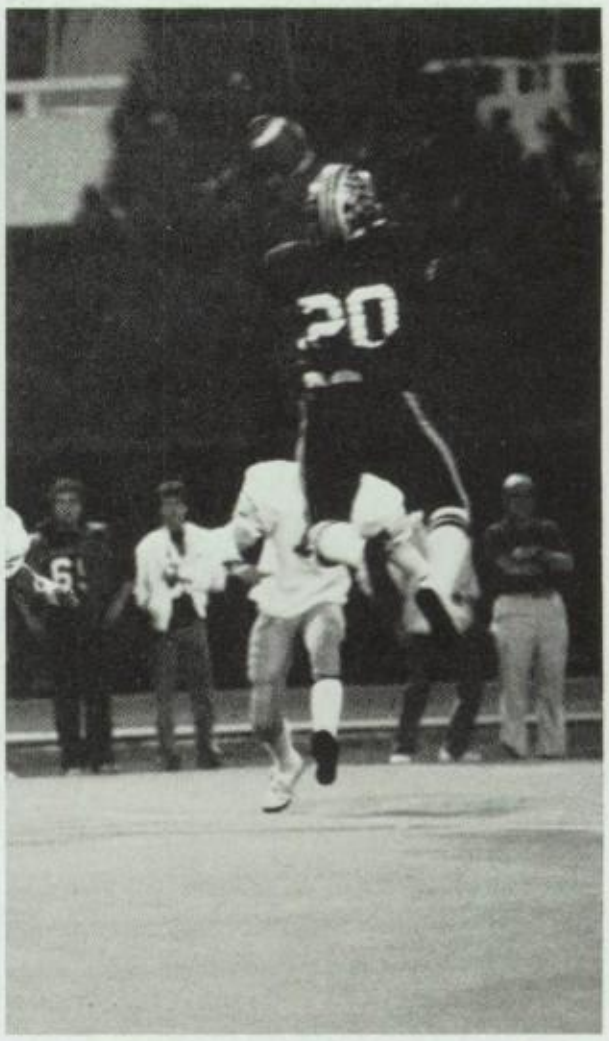
The 3 point field goal kicked by Mitch may have just saved the day.



This year's football season proved to be very successful, especially for the varsity team with its ten wins and three losses. With the help of those cheering fans and the dedicated coaches, the team showed great spirit. Their determination inspired them, even during Saturday practices and during the Thanksgiving holidays. The Cub-St. John game, resulting in the district championship for the Cubs, provided a lasting memory for the graduating varsity seniors. Even though our Cubs were occasionally defeated, they didn't allow a defeat to dampen their spirit. They simply became even more determined to win again.

Sacrifices such as Reggie's are sometimes necessary for victories.

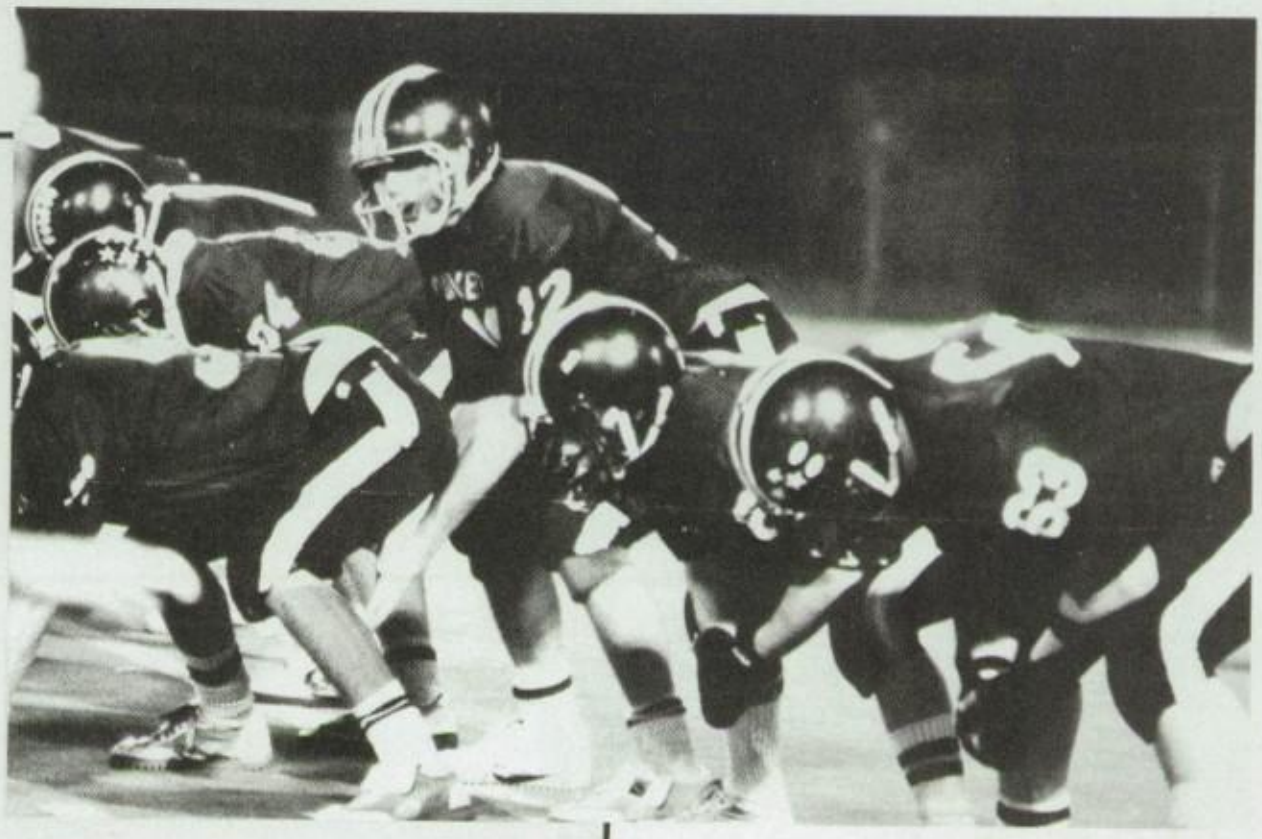


Leaping into the air, Troy displays his gymnastic ability in receiving the pass.

To us, CHAMPIONS ALWAYS !

Anxiety is the emotion of players (such as Carlton) who give 101%.

Wharton prepares for the challenging defense, but what about those shoe strings?



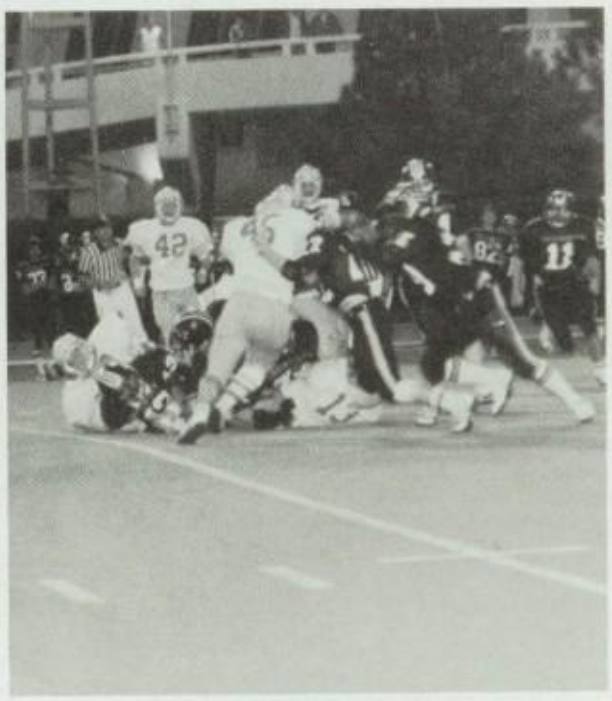
Striving for victory, Bradley calls the winning play.

Down, Black, 6, 2, Hut 1, 2, 3, 30, 20, 10, 5—TOUCHDOWN! Ah, the sound of victory those Cub fans love to hear, and so many times did our Mighty Black and Gold make us proud. The season started off great as the Cubs defeated Livonia (14-6) in the Jamboree. Game after game, winning or losing, we knew that our guys had done their best.

The Cubs gave 101% at every fall practice and game. This dedication led to another spectular season for U-High: District 4-A Champs and Regional Champs. With hopes of a return performance at the Superdome, the mighty Cubs battled Country Day of New Orleans during the Thanksgiving holidays—only to have their hopes for a state championship dashed in a tight 12-14 quarterfinal game. However, our Cubs were not defeated in spirit. They will always be champions to us!

SUCCESS—-because our pouncing Cubs always rush forward.

Troy demolishes the enemy as he dashes down the field one last season.



Hanson comes back a second time but left with their heads low.

J.V. and Junior Football

All ears toward Adam to hear his brilliant idea.

The Junior Varsity and the 7th-8th grade teams had great years! The 7th-8th graders, led by Coach Maddox, had a 6-0 undefeated season, the best year for the 7th-8th graders ever. Coach Roberts took his JV team through a tough 5-2 season, also one of the best ever. These outstanding seasons point toward a promising future for the Cubs.

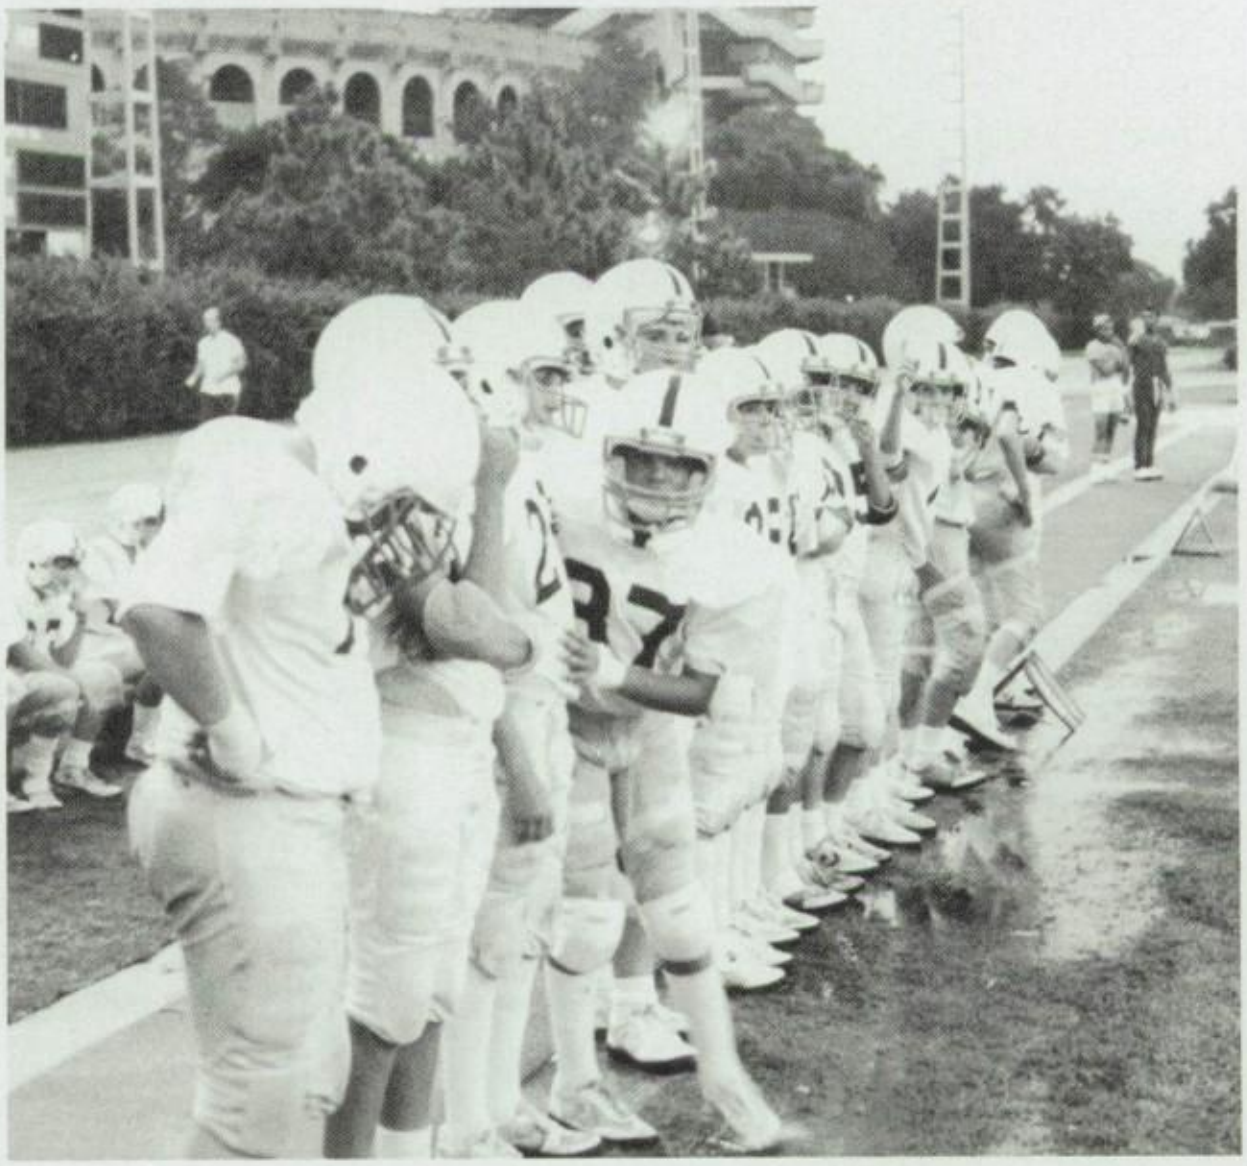
"Huddle tight, boys, and listen good."

The strut of Coach Roberts.

"What are you going to do?"

The Fowler Boys are thinking: Shhh!

"Run those laps!"



"Coach wears a WIG; pass it down!"

Our men for later days.

STATE CHAMPS . . .

Coach Furr's looks are as serious as his demands: WIN!

Our team's statisticians—Scott Wharton, Kurt O'Brien, and David Knight—pose as the "All-American Boys" with a one-track mind, basketball.

Yes, once again they DID IT! The mighty Cubs dribbled and shot their way to a 2nd STATE CHAMPIONSHIP! Though there may have been a few doubters, the team, student body, and other Cub supporters never lost faith . . . AND THEY DID IT!

Skillfully led by Coach Furr and team captains Gordon McKernan and K.C. Walker, the Cubs bounced through a 24-6 season to become District 9-A Champs. The regular season was highlighted by a team unity which developed as the season progressed.

This team unity resulted in victory after victory during the play-offs, leading to the championship game in the LSU Assembly Center. Despite several hair-raising moments for the fans, the Cubs were always calm and poised, never giving up.

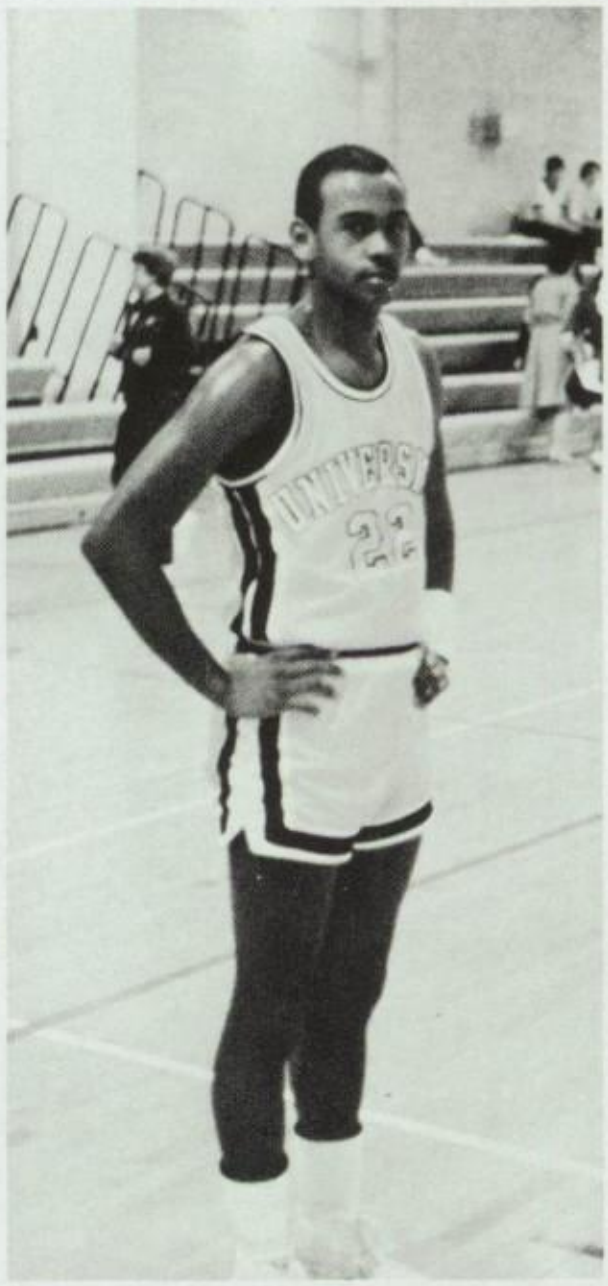
The result? ANOTHER CHAMP TITLE!!!

AGAIN!

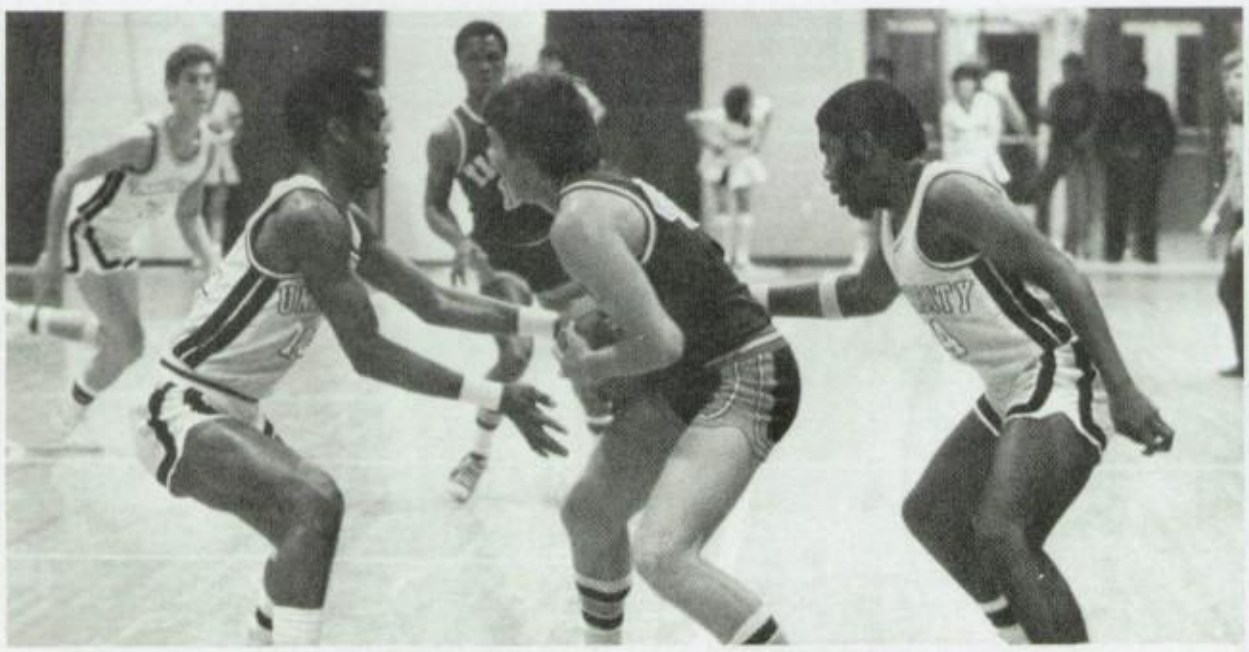
Caught in a state of suspense, Brunson and Mike stare as their team approaches another victory.

Coach Furr and team captains Kevin Walker and Gordon McKernan.

Anxiously awaiting the start of the game, Chuckie shows his impatience.

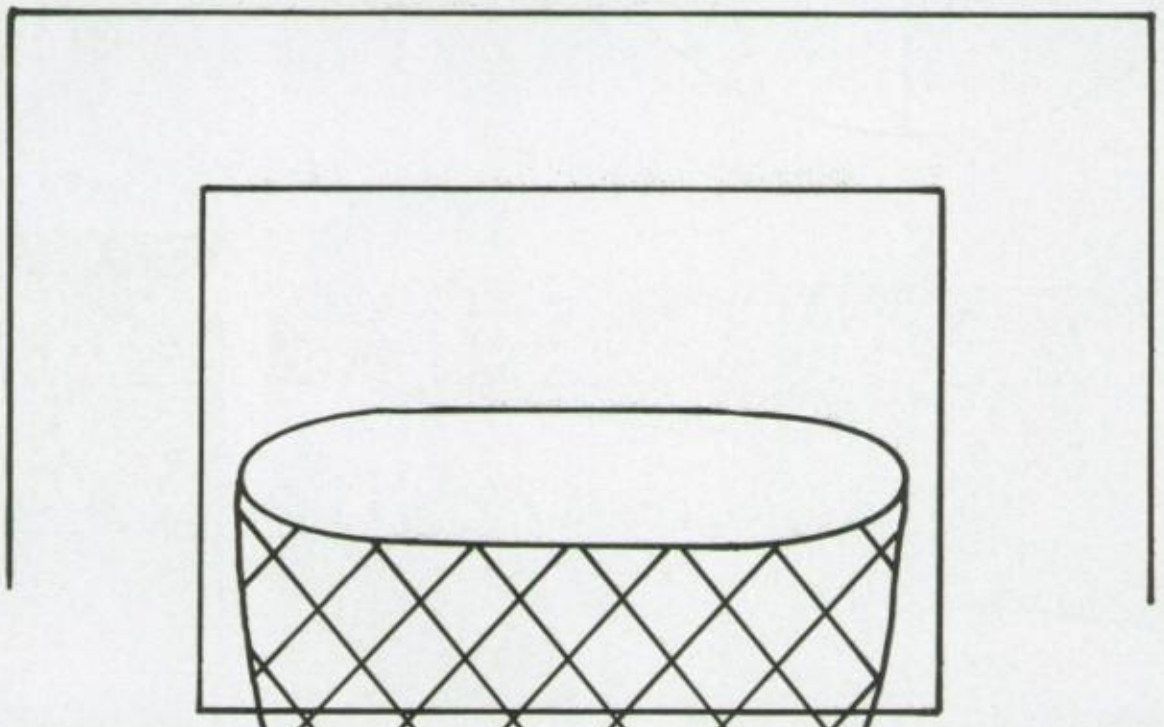


Always working hard, Blance still manages a smile.

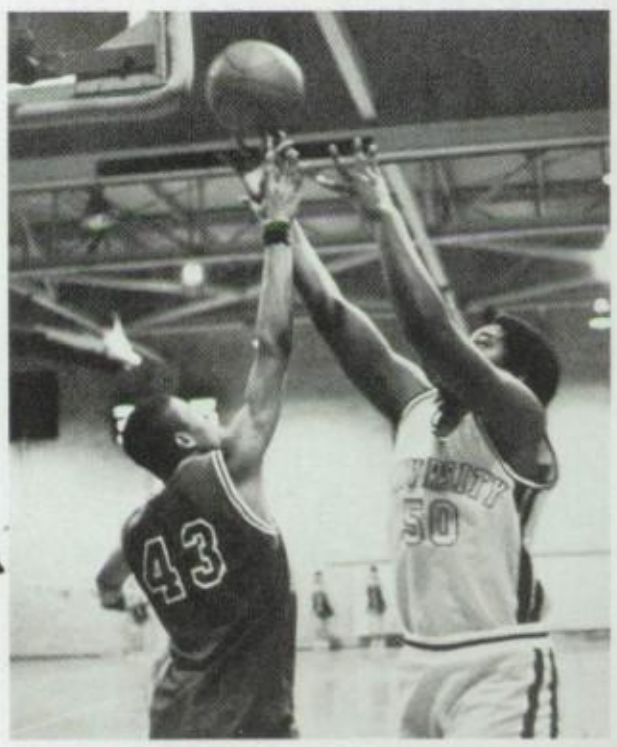


After surrounding the opponent, Mark and Patrick leave him with no choice but to give up the ball.

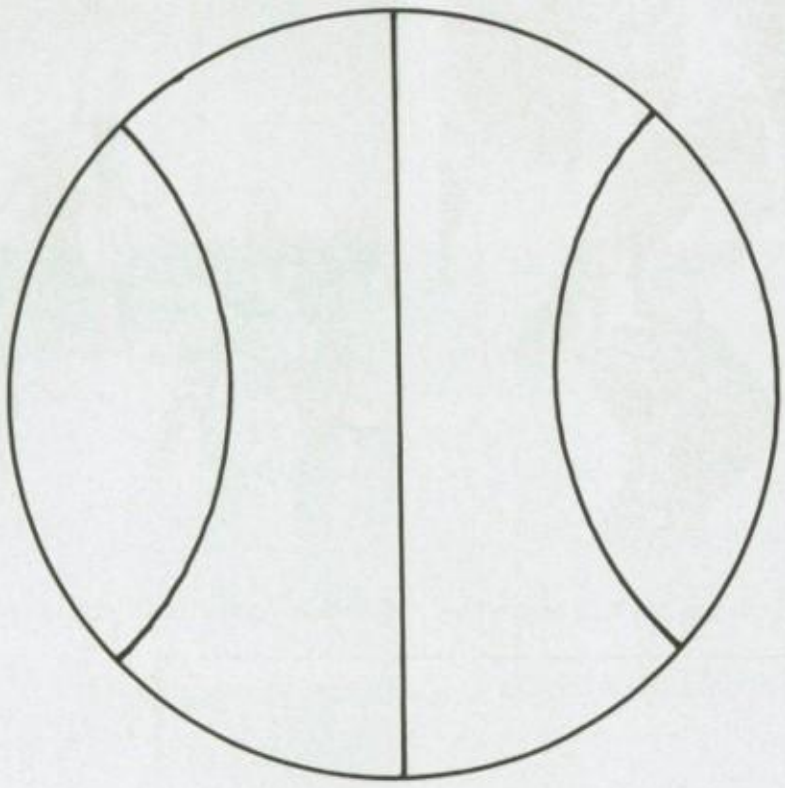
Chuckie "goes for it" as he leaps off his feet.



Granting the wish of the roaring crowd, Bradley scores another 2 points.

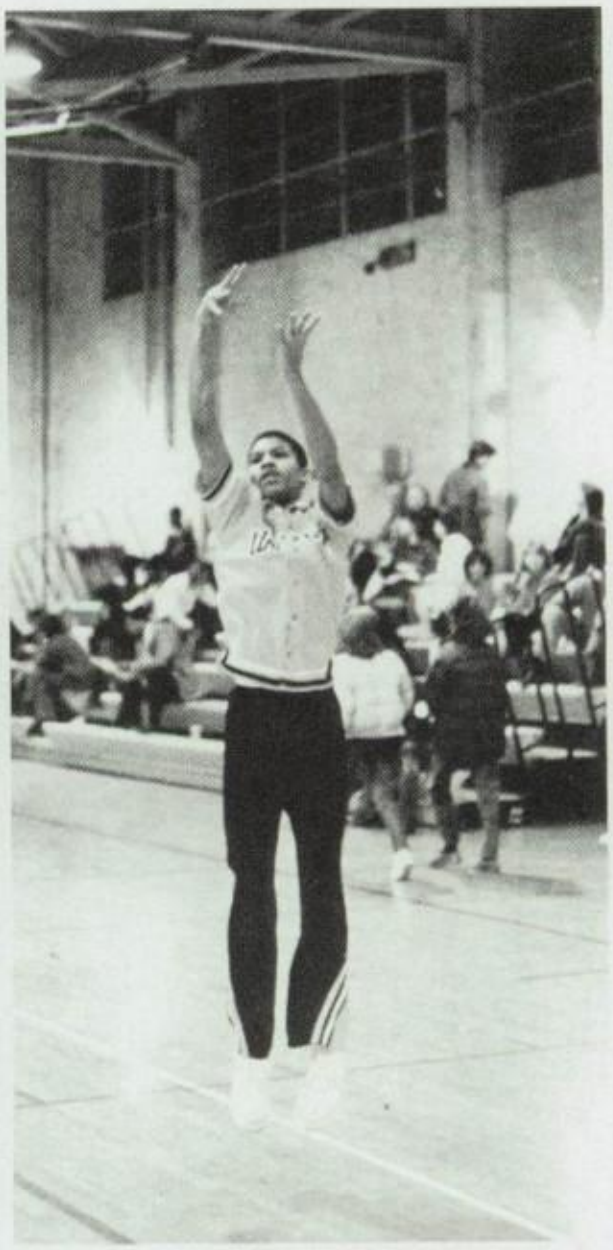


Brett outreaches the opponent.



Running full speed, Danny gives his all.

"Get out of my way 'cause the mighty Cubs are coming through!"



Leaping off the floor, Kevin warms up before the defeat over Sunshine.

LADY
CONGRATS!

"Practice makes perfect," as the old saying goes, and the Lady Cubs made it true. Not only did they open the door to the playoffs, but came out second in District. Much of the credit goes to Coach Coleman for her dedication and support. Girls spent many afternoons working on shooting drills, tipping drills, running suicides, and various other skills. This year was only the beginning of a continuous winning streak.

Shannon and Sheri move quickly to their positions.

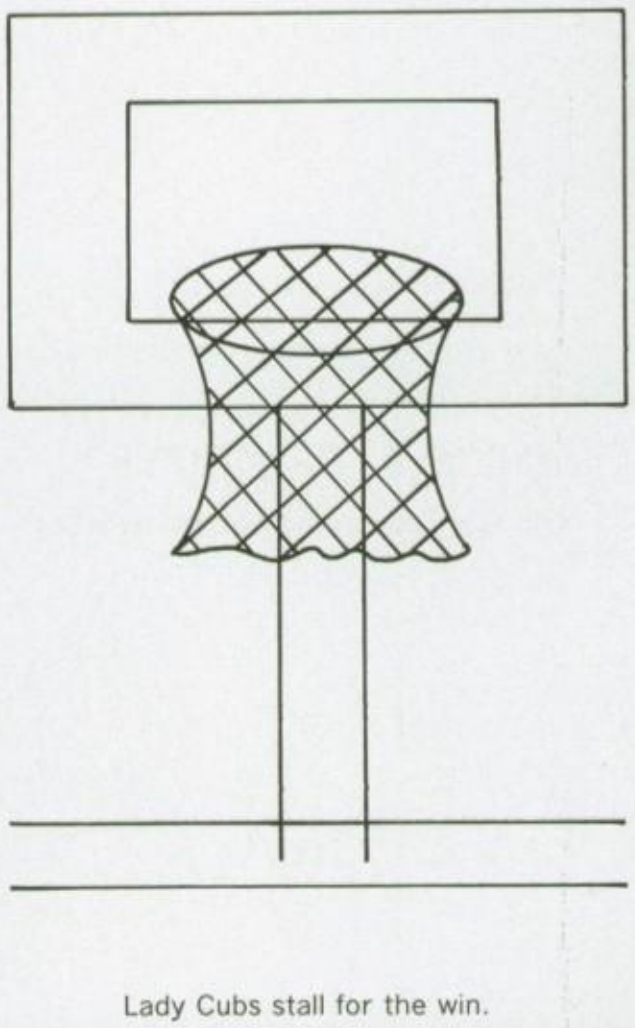
Ashley shoots for two more points.

Marilyn turns away after shooting, sure of the results.

The Hamilton twins set up another dynamite play.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

Cindy Gill, Jennifer Walsh, Sheri Hamilton, Marilyn Hamilton, Shannon May, Beth Griffin, Kelly Longwell, Chris Sciacchetano, Elaine Piper, Terri Fergus, Susannah Fowler, and Lori Henry.



Lady Cubs stall for the win.

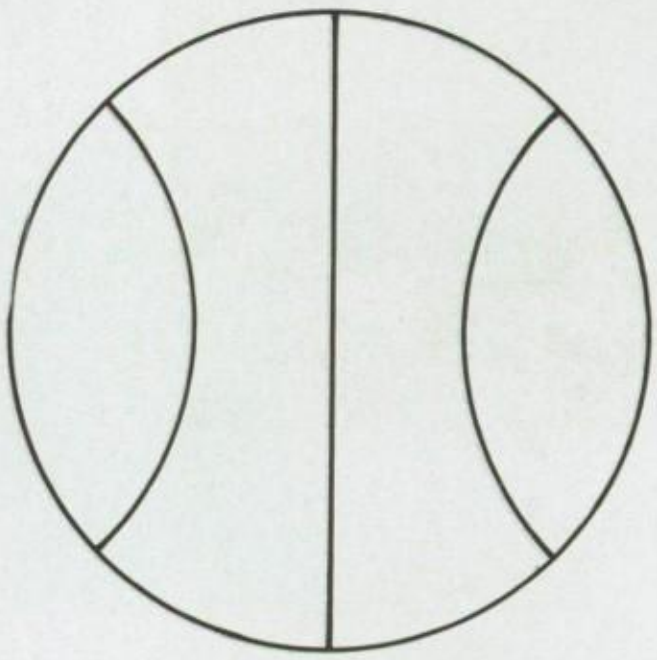
All eyes on the ball as the Cubs gain a victory against the Crusaders.

Sheri waits for the ball to come her way.

BEST SEASON YET!

The free throw—a Cub's perfect shot!

Shannon sees it; the game will soon be in her hands.



Have they lost the ball?

CROSS COUNTRY:

The mighty Cubs standing tall with their District Champs Trophy.

Brad shows off his muscle-bound legs as he takes the lead.

Mr. Delacroix is delirious over the accomplishments of the team.

"How can I let myself be seen like this?"

Jeff smiles with modesty.

THE WAY TO GO

Larry and Jon like to run, but shyly pose for pictures.

Watch your mouth, Dyson!

First row: Molly Fink, Angelle Kean, Jodi Stovall, Sudie McCool, Judith Bradford, Wendy Miller, Britt Murrill. 2nd Row: Shari Hall, Helen Hebert, Laura Hickman, Lori Lee, Jane Wickersham, Aimee Jendrzejewski, Jon Pruett, Larry Collier, Anne Newman, Mr. Delacroix. 3rd Row: Andrew Crawford, Buddy Cox, Bob Barton, Cary Jumonville, Clay Crawford, Mike Benson, Andrew Roberts, Tim Arnold, Quinton Dyson, and Tim McClure.

Waiting for their turn, the guys watch the girls.

TRACK

Hot Days—LONG Hours!

Track is a medley of many varied events. These include the javelin; the discus; the shotput; the long, triple, and high jump; the pole vault; the hurdles; 50, 100, 200, 400, 800, and 1600 yard dashes; the 440 and mile relays; and the mile and two mile runs. The skills required in these events are, with much effort, developed by the participants with the help of Coaches Maddox, Stelley, Furr, and Coleman.

Exhaustion sets in after a hard workout.

Track is definitely not all work.

Concentration: Bradley keeps his mind on the task ahead.

Displaying his perfect form, Adam Towne practices hard for District Finals.

Directions for throwing the javelin result in Reggie's unique interpretation.

Shot put is an event which requires all of Angela's power and concentration.

Team meetings are an attempt to pull everything together.

Stretching to the limit, Leigh Anne bursts in front of Courtney and Shannon during practice.

U-High's Tennis Pros!

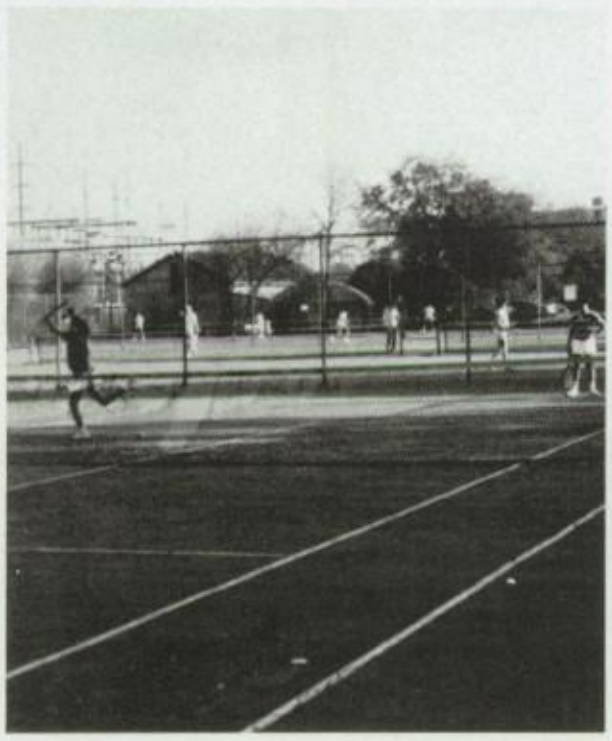
1st row: Molly Fink, Collette Brown, Arden Riffel, Marcy Hill. 2nd row: Ashley Smart, Sudie McCool 3rd row: Gordon McKernan, Randy Vick, Brunson Taylor, Brad Mittendorf, David Kantrow, Mark Hollingsworth; Not pictured: Cynthia Badley, Michelle Vega, Anne Shirley, Karen Kirkpatrick, Shannon May, Cindy Gill, Mitch Taylor, Conner Eglin, Teddy Jones, Peter Lange, Roy Hill, Lloyd Brown.

During Tuesday practices and thirteen matches, Coach Ater directed U-High's future tennis pros. At season's end, the top 10 girls and boys went to regionals in New Orleans, with the winners competing in the state meet the following week.

Meanwhile, on Tuesday through Thursday nights from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., U-High swimming champs practiced for successful victories at 3 district, 1 city, and 1 state meets. Mrs. J. coached the 7 boys and 18 girls vigorously and was able to create great enthusiasm for this sport.

A new activity added to U-High's many sports was golf. Dr. Hope sponsored the 13 members and supervised the practices held at L.S.U.'s golf course.



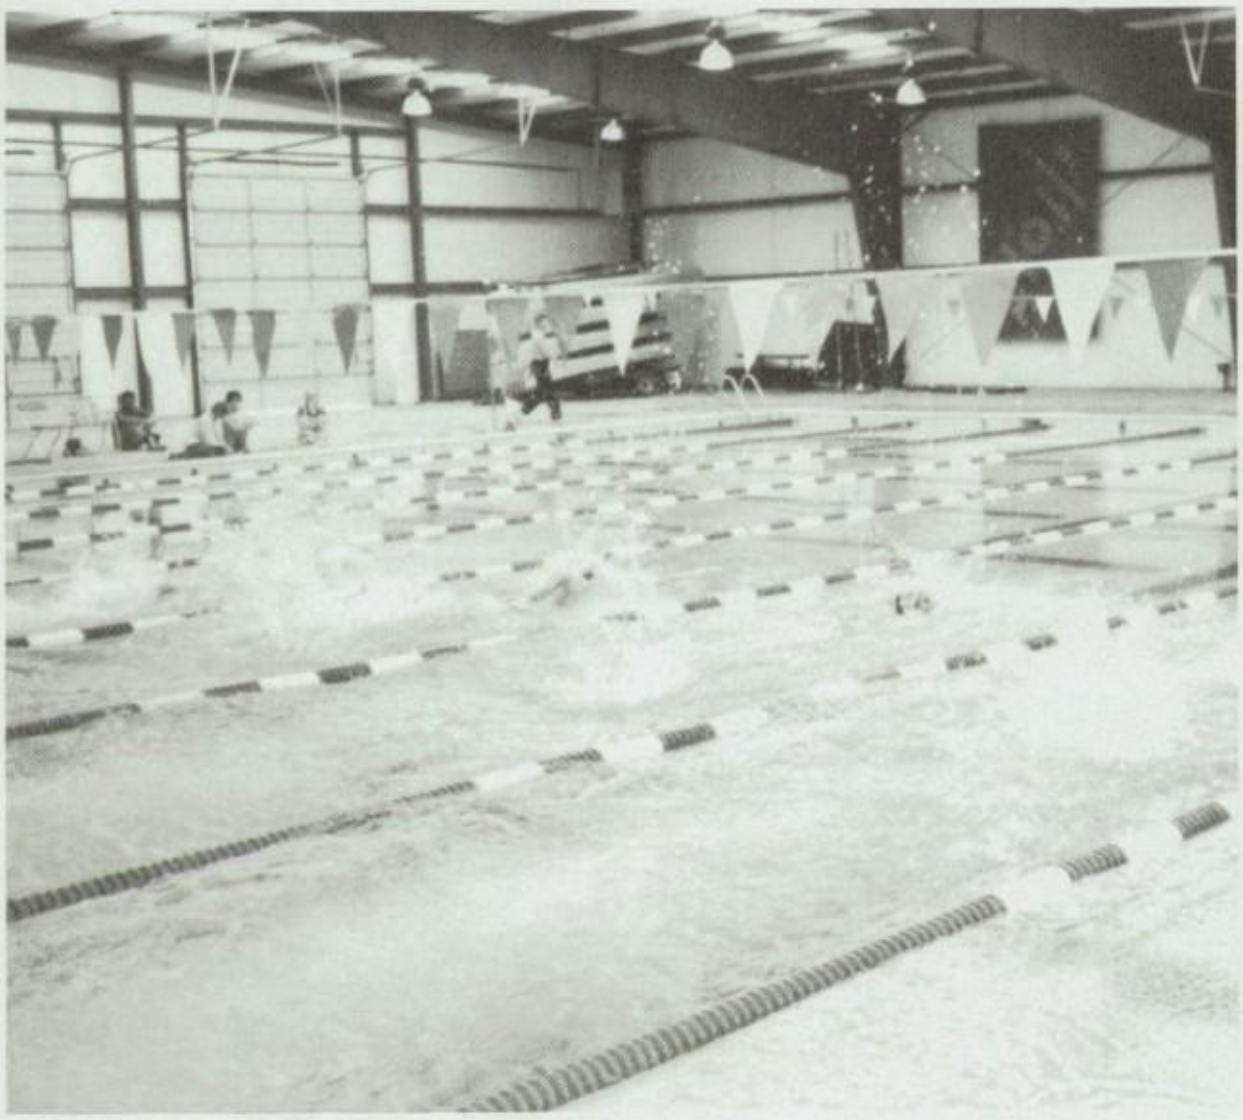
The winning skills of Julie and Michelle bring many points to the U-High team.

Ready for anything, Cynthia guards the backcourt in doubles.

The victories won by her team naturally bring a smile to Ms. Ater's face.

Swimming Champs

The team makes a beginning splash to victory.



Figuring out who is swimming against whom, Brian, Cindy, and Elizabeth wait anxiously for the next race.

Diane and Aimee breathe deeply before the 500 free.

Watching the pool with hopes of seeing the U-High contestant in the lead, Wendy, Elizabeth, Julie, Shari, Mary, Beth, and others rest on the bleachers.

HONOR ATHLETES: the pride is better than the award.

Blance's modesty won him this one.

"What can I say? We're the best!" Nothing we all don't know.

"Hey, I want my MTV!"

Appreciation is expressed to Shari, Shannon, and Leigh Anne.

Proudly, Coach Stelly introduces the football captains of 1984.

"I've waited for this for so long, but it sure doesn't feel like a football?!"

"OK, OK! It's yours; just let go of my hand!"

Our team's backbone, Angie and Alice: "We couldn't have made it without you."

Fourth hour is joyfully sacrificed by Michelle and her classmates for their "annual-picture day."

The junior year is always special. Many new and different things happen: class rings, upper-classmen, fright writes, fourth hour computer literacy, the last year of P.E., one more class with Mr. T., and ONE YEAR LEFT 'TIL GRADUATION! Common phrases heard include "Yabey-dabey"—Jim Land; "Do the dump!"—Janna Maestri; "The Maturity Level . . . "—Paul Armstrong; "It was Bill, Ms. Ater!"—Ysonde Boland; "Catch the Train"—Stephanie Hyde; "Close, but no cigar!"—L.A. Woodland.

Putting U-High in its proper place, Becky, Susan, and Sheryl show their Cub spirit!

The sophomore class participated in many activities, including the biology plant collections and field trip, Homecoming events, Sadie Hawkins boy-chasing, Spirit Week competition, and Winter Formal romance. During these and other events, words often heard were "Do the dump"; "Glasshouse"; "Gila"; "Spooka"; "Hi ya, fellas, by B.B."; "B.F.E."; "Guess you're pretty cool now, huh?"

Freshman year . . . a time of adjustment to the hectic high school pace. The freshman class eagerly plunged into its work and activities. One such activity was a mock election for the 1983 Governor's race. 8th Grade—

Upperclass of the Middle School!

1983-84 8A Officers: Pres.—Carl Boethel; Sec.—John Fowler; Treas.—Karen Merriman; Vice Pres.—Lisa Simon

During middle school activities, eighth graders unmistakably held the spotlight. Even though burdened with physical science, pre-algebra, La. history, language arts, and the process of forever "being prepard for high school," they were not prevented from participating in extra-curricular activities. Throughout the year, the 8th grade class exploded with spirit and led the way.

Sayings often heard: "What time is it?" "It's cold in here!" "Lay down. You dead!" "D.D. rules!" and "Captain K."

A 10-page weather report . . . pre-algebra . . . original short stories . . . the history of the world . . . just part of the tough curriculum for 7th graders. Yet the "middle of the middle school" also enjoyed producing the middle school COLLAGE, shedding tears over SHENANDOAH, sitting in the U-High section of Tiger Stadium, jumping rope for the American Heart Association, and playing volleyball—girls against the boys, of course—at Oakley Plantation. SIXTH GRADE TAKES SHAPE

in Middle School

Entering middle school, sixth graders, thirty of whom are new to U-High, met many new challenges. The academic courses were at times difficult, yet always rewarding; these courses included one hour of science, in which students labored over projects such as an insect collection and a domed glass preservation of butterflies, and two hours of language arts/reading, demanding the acquisition of skills in grammar, composition, reading, and studying. Sixth graders were also exposed to various exploratory courses, including classes in computer literacy, home economics, art, and drama.

Besides the more difficult secondary classes scheduled, other new activities included Sadie Hawkins Day and a guided tour of the Greater Baton Rouge Zoo. The sixth graders, through varied classes and activities, have had a successful beginning. As the class of 1990, they have proven to be capable of meeting all challenges.

Trampled to death, our good-natured principal represents Southern Lab.

This year U-High welcomed five new teachers and one administrator. These new teachers are Mrs. Cowart, Mrs. O'Brien, Mr. Schooley, Mrs. Sessions, and Mrs. Wickersham. One major addition to our faculty is the assistant principal, Dr. Jim Hope.

This year our teachers participated in a variety of activities. All year long they lectured, tested, and graded papers, often giving up their Saturdays and holidays. But this isn't all our teachers were involved in. They showed school spirit in various ways, such as chaperoning bus trips, conventions, and dances; sponsoring class activities and the many U-High clubs; and performing in a skit.

Our principal, Dr. Jim Fox, and assistant principal, Dr. Jim Hope.

The unique lab instruction of Ms. Ater's class provides on-hand application of theory.

Reporters and camera crews are a common sight as Ms. Ater's fame grows.

One of our teachers, Gayle Ater, received several awards in 1983 for excellence in the field of education, including Discover Magazine's "Outstanding Teacher of the Year" and Louisiana Recipient of the Presidential Award for Excellence in Science and Mathematics Teaching. As a result, Ms. Ater appeared on numerous television programs, such as the nationally televised Today Show, and received computer equipment and a $5000 grant to improve the University High science program. Honored by the East Baton Rouge Parish Council, State Superintendent of Education Kelly Nix, and Governor Treen, Ms. Ater says her greatest thrill was attending a White House reception hosted by President Reagan.

When frequently asked by newspeople why she had chosen teaching rather than a higher-paying research position as her career, Ms. Ater replied that she hopes to convey to young people her enthusiasm for and expertise in science, in hopes of influencing and producing future scientists.

Ms. Ater, who said she "is flattered by the awards," is known at U-High for her knowledge, for her professionalism, and—above all—for her concern and love for the students. The Cub staff salutes Gayle Ater for her service to our school. We are proud of you!

The original skit was "The Voyage to the Rock of the Dome" (at the UHS-Hanson pep rally). "Fun" activities this year included the "White Elephant" faculty Christmas party and a faculty spring party. Their time, efforts, and caring were rewarded during National Teacher Appreciation Week. U-High teachers, far from being 8-3:15 employees, attempt to provide us not only with an excellent education, but also with opportunities to grow in all areas.

I, INGA LAUGHLIN, being of sound mind and body, will to all juniors the ability to make their senior year the best ever.

I, ERIC SCHROEDER, will my ability to get along with my teachers and all faculty members to Holmes Cooper.

I, VERNELL SCOTT, will my ability to walk a straight line to a needy Brunson Taylor.

I, ANGIE BIVIN, will my exquisite collection of jewelry to Kelly Longwell, and my closet of Espirit clothes to a needy Ysonde Boland.

I, DUANE "PAPA SMURF," will to Chuckie Baszile all my Smurfettes and the ability to obtain them.

I, SHARIBA H., being of unsound mind but very sound body, will my skinny legs to Tricia B. and my height to Lisa H.

I, TARA SOILEAU, will my superior musical ability to Julie Thomas, my partying nature to Becky Larguier, and my suburban to Randy Vick.

I, BRENNAN KEAN, being of sound mind and body, will my sound mind and body to a needy Jim Land, in hope that one day he will be normal.

I, JACK SHAAB, being of sound mind and body, will my parking lot abilities to the next year's senior class.

I, LANCE BULLOCK, will my anti-perspirant to Connor Eglin and my boots to Bill Griffin. Guard them well.

I, TARA HEBERT, do hereby will my ability to talk in any situation to Megan Fink.

I, HALE ARNAS, being of sound taste, will my wardrobe to Brunson Taylor in hope that he may create new and exotic fashion outfits.

I, MISSY HILL, will to Helen Hebert my ability to always have something sweet to say about everyone who passes.

I, BRADLEY AUCOIN, will to Danny Lewis my ability to throw the football in hopes that he will lend me some of his "macho" qualities.

I, KENNON GUGLIELMO, will my infallible logic and obnoxious attitude to Miss Ater, in hopes that she can someday be like me.
